

One of Last 200 at G.A.R. Camp

BOYS IN BLUE IN PEACE MOVE

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 10.—(UP)—It took them 11 hours to decide, but Union veterans of the Civil War agreed today to meet with Confederate veterans at Gettysburg next year, in the interests of peace.

But, they were emphatic, the "Boys in Blue" won't stand for any displays of the Confederate "Stars and Bars" at the Pennsylvania reunion. The only flag in sight must be the "Flag of the United States of America," they announced.

Bitter Debate

Conferees at the 71st annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic debated bitterly the conditions under which they would attend, if any, and finally agreed: "We are willing to attend a reunion of citizens of the United States who at one time were opposed to one another in civil war and who now wish to join in a reunion at Gettysburg in 1938 for the purpose of showing to citizens of the United States our reconciliation to the results of that war."

"Civil War" Official

They added a protest to any plans made for forming the Civil War "War between the States." That phrase, they said, was "subject to southern propaganda" and "a soothing substitute for secession and rebellion," and the only official name is "Civil War."

They decided to hold their 1938 national encampment in Des Moines, Ia., and elected Dr. Overton H. Menett, Los Angeles, one-time Indiana farm boy, national commander.

TIDELAND OIL BIDS ARE TURNED DOWN

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 10.—(UP)—Director of finance Arlin E. Stockburger said today his department is returning to 16 oil companies their competitive bids for drilling rights in the state-owned tideland oil pools at Huntington Beach.

The bids were submitted in compliance with provisions of the Olson tideland oil measure passed by the 1937 legislature and now challenged in a referendum qualified for the November, 1938, general election ballot.

Cholera, Defeats, Slow Up Japanese Armies

CHINESE WIN VICTORIES ON 3 FRONTS

TOKYO, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Japan's undeclared war against China will continue into 1938 and the Empire's next budget must be considered on the basis of the "worst eventuality," Prince Fumimaro Konoye, Japanese premier, said tonight.

BULLETIN

NANKING, Sept. 10.—(UP)—An official communique announced today that China's Communist army of 100,000 or more men had made peace with the Central government and had been transformed into the Eighth Route Army to join the fight against the Japanese.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 10.—(UP)—An epidemic of cholera and important Chinese victories on three fronts gave Japan a major setback today in her undeclared war with China.

Cholera broke out among Japanese troops in the Shanghai area, a Japanese spokesman said, leaving 20 dead and 80 more in a dangerous condition.

The epidemic centered in Pao-shan, near the mouth of the Yangtze river, north of Wusung, and it was feared that it might spread. In such event thousands of civilians and Chinese troops would be in danger of being afflicted with the highly contagious disease.

More than 5000 Americans, including U. S. Marines and Blue-jackets, were in the gravest danger.

SELLING WAVE HITS MARKETS

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Another drastic selling wave struck the stock market today, clogging ticker facilities and driving prices down as much as $10 a share to new lows for the year and longer.

Steel shares led the decline as the United States Steel Corporation reported August shipments were almost 79,000 tons under July's although they established an August high since 1929.

Flood Operations Active

In the fourth hour, tickets fell as much as five minutes behind and in some cases tape prices were as much as a point above the actual floor price. Selling orders poured into brokerage offices from all parts of the country and floor operations were the most active in recent months.

All groups on the list shared in the decline with major losses in the higher priced shares such as Allied Chemical which broke $10 a share. In the industrial list losses of $2 to more than $5 a share were general.

Railroad shares broke with industrials and many new lows for the year were recorded.

NAB NURSE IN L. A. ON THEFT CHARGES

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Mrs. Margaret Phillips, San Francisco nurse, was scheduled to be returned home today on a fugitive warrant, charging her with grand theft.

The charge, preferred by J. W. Scott, returned San Francisco business man, was indignantly denied by the nurse, who said she had attended him and that he had given her gifts.

"He gave me presents and asked me to marry him, but I refused," she said. "I guess he's sore because I wouldn't marry him."

KIND HEARTED COURT

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(UP)—John Foley, 50, World War veteran, asked magistrate's court to send him to an institution because he was unable to raise the fare to Bakersfield, Calif., where he said a brother was willing to take care of him. The court appropriated $50 from its special relief fund and Foley left for the west coast today.

TEXAS SENATOR TO SEEK PROHIBITION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Sen. Morris Sheppard, D. Tex., said today he is prepared to press for action on a constitutional amendment reestablishing prohibition as soon as the dry leaders "give the signal."

The small, gray-haired Texan, who makes a senate speech on the benefits of prohibition once every year, already has two proposed constitutional amendments pending before the senate judiciary committee.

One would put the 18th amendment in the constitution. The other would give power to congress to make such regulations as it deemed fit in regard to sale of liquor.

"I am ready to demand hearings on which ever one the prohibition forces favor," Sheppard said. "All I'm waiting for is their signal to go ahead."

F. D. R. 'RAZZES' SON JOHN AT HYDE PARK

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 10.—(UP)—John Roosevelt and Anne Lindsay Clark, pretty blonde debutante, continued their romance in Boston today, after a merry "razzing" from the president and other members of his family forced them to "flee" the summer White House.

LABOR GROUPS BATTLE LOOMS

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Lee Pressman, counsel for the Committee for Industrial Organization, charged before the National Labor Relations board today that the American Federation of Labor was deliberately attempting to prevent American workers from choosing their own union representation.

BULLETIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—(UP)—

Leaders of rival American Federation of Labor unions and Committee for Industrial Organization today to align their forces in a jurisdiction dispute which has virtually paralyzed shipping in bay ports.

The A. F. of L. group was headed by Dave Beck, northwest labor leader, the international vice president of the teacher's union, while the C. I. O. forces were headed by Harry Bridges, president of the recently organized Longshoremen-Warehousemen's union.

Fight To Finish

The teamsters and longshoremen have engaged in what both term a "fight to the finish" for control of union warehousemen. The teamsters have refused to move cargo from ships by longshoremen, or to move cargo from warehouses to the docks to be loaded on the ships.

Steps Taken To Protect Youngsters

By MALCOLM BOSTWICK

The good school traffic safety record set in Orange county last year by the California highway patrol through regulation of school bus transportation of children will be better this year. That is, if stricter rules set by the state act as desired, according to Capt. H. C. Moehan, head of the Orange county patrol unit. Today approximately 25,000 Orange county students are prepared to return to their books Monday.

Two hundred and twenty-five drivers have been "groomed" for operating the county school system's 119 buses and will be under direct supervision of Officer George Peterkin, who was in charge last year.

Stiff Examinations

Drivers were given more rigid examinations this year, particularly with regard to eye sight, Officer Peterkin pointed out. They were required to pass examinations given by an optometrist, doctor and the highway patrol. The patrol requires written examination consisting of 50 questions and successful applicants for driving jobs may not receive a grade lower than 80 per cent. Oral and driving examinations also were given by the officers who accompanied each driver in a bus.

"If any driver acted nervously or showed poor mechanical ability, lack of good judgment, or failed to make proper signals, he was eliminated," Officer Peterkin said. "Every driver, unless a teacher or janitor, was required to have chauffeur."

PATTERN FOLLOWED BY POLIO EPIDEMIC

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(UP)—The U. S. Public Health Service believed today it had discovered the pattern followed by infantile paralysis during the course of an epidemic.

Dr. Robert Olson, assistant surgeon general, said that weekly reports on the number of cases of this and other communicable diseases indicate they follow a definite path during a season.

"Infantile paralysis follows a rather stereotyped incidence curve," Dr. Olson said. "Prevailing with a rather low and uniform rate during the first five months of the year, the number of cases ordinarily increases in June."

"From June on there is a steady, though gradual rise in the number of cases reported until August."

U. S. NAZI AIM IS OUTLINED

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—(UP)—American Nazis make "health, Hitler, Heils and Hatred" the 4-H's of their drive to "prevent Americanization of American children whose parents are members of the German-American Bund," the Times said today.

Today's copyrighted installment of a series based on a six months undercover investigation by Times reporters, said the Bund yearbook was reprinted from the German magazine Deutsche Arbeit.

Referring to German children who have emigrated to America, the yearbook said, according to the Times: "In the coming years all the unity and all the efforts will be required in order to put a stop to the former crippling by the Americanization of their young."

Expect Revolution

The Times charged in its first stories, prepared by investigators William Metcalfe, James Metcalfe and John Metcalfe, more than 20,000 Bund members were preparing to seize control of the United States when Communists and Jews—as Nazis expect—start a revolution.

John C. Metcalfe quoted Alfonso Brem, member of the Astoria, Long Island Bund, as telling him:

Must Make Choice

"We feel that one of these days the U. S. must make its choice between Communism and Fascism. All tendencies in the changes of the American government point in that direction. When that day comes—and no knows how soon—we must be prepared. In other words, we do not advocate a revolution, but we fear there is apt to be one. When the revolution comes, it will likely be one of Communism. Then we shall rise to fight it. . . . We shall go on the side of Fascism. We do not believe in racial equality—that Negroes and Jews are as good as white men."

REBELS READY FOR FINAL "BIG PUSH"

HENDAYE, Franco - Spanish Frontier, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Favored by clearing skies after several days of blinding, icy rains, Nationalist planes soared over the last defense lines of Loyalist-held Gijon today, paving the way for the final insurgent push.

Three Nationalist columns are advancing on Gijon and officers were confident the city would fall before the end of the month. The fall of Gijon would give the Nationalists complete control of northern Spain.

GAS TEST CAP CAUSES DEATH

William Jackson, about 45, resident of 630 North Garnsey, and former employee of the Southern Counties Gas company, was killed this morning on Fifth street just east of Garden Grove road, when a test head on a gas line blew out.

Coroner Earl Aubrey and Deputy Sheriff James Workman and G. E. McKelvey were investigating circumstances surrounding the death.

Jackson, who left the Southern Counties Gas company a year ago to take employment with the Pacific Pipe Line Construction company, the contracting firm which has just completed installation of a 12-inch gas main at the Fifth street location, was killed instantly.

100 Pounds Pressure

He was hurled 36 feet by the blast and landed against a tree, with his shirt torn from his body.

According to gas company officials who let a contract to the pipe line company, the 12-inch line replaces a six-inch line, and will permit of a larger supply of gas for Santa Ana. Apparently, according to Officer Workman's information, Jackson forgot to shut off the 100 pounds of air pressure on the pipe section he was testing, when he loosened the test head or plug. The plug struck him in the chest.

The body was removed to Brown and Wagner funeral chapel, where inquest will be held later.

FULLERTON TO GET NEW $123,000 P. O.

Fullerton is assured of a new post office, according to information given Postmaster R. S. Gregory by Congressman Sheppard this morning. The cost is expected to approximate $123,000.

According to Gregory, Sheppard received a telegram from post office authorities in Washington today, revealing that Fullerton would get a new building. The post office is housed in a building at 112 East Commonwealth at present. A two-year lease on the premises was signed recently.

Inspectors for the post office department were in Fullerton recently inspecting proposed sites for the building, according to C. C. Clark, assistant postmaster.

WOMAN DRAWS PROBATION AT COURT HEARING

Mrs. Mildred Maynard was granted probation for three years providing she return to Seattle, Wash., and care for her son and her husband, Louis Maynard, who was granted probation for three years providing he spend a year in the county jail, when they appeared before Superior Judge H. G. Ames today. Both were accused of issuing fictitious checks.

According to the complaint against them, Maynard and his wife, who at the time were going under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Blake and were living with a former convict, known as Cobb, and his wife, issued the checks Dec. 24 last. One check for $24 was cashed by William McGimpsey and the other, for a like amount was cashed at the Bradley Food Market.

"Brains" Hunted
At the probation hearing today, Attorney Z. B. West, representing the couple, pointed out to the court that Maynard and his wife have been cooperating with Santa Ana police in an effort to locate Cobb, who is alleged to have been the "brains" of the check cashing plot.

Maynard was arrested in Fresno when he completed a jail term there on a check charge and Mrs. Maynard was arrested in Seattle, Wash., where the couple's five-year-old son is living.

The probation application of Francisco Becerra, who pleaded guilty to rape, was denied and he was sentenced to serve from one to 50 years in San Quentin. Becerra is alleged to have assaulted an 11-year-old girl.

CHOLERA HITS NIPPON ARMY

tonight as they have been every hour since the Shanghai battle started Aug. 12.

Shells and bombs again fell near the U. S. flagship Augusta, on which a sailor already has been killed and 17 wounded, and anti-aircraft explosives again boomed ominously near more than 1000 marines holding the International defense line on the south bank of Shaochow Creek in the International Settlement.

Added to the Japanese reverses brought on by cholera were the Chinese claims of having blocked the Japanese on three fronts and a Japanese admission that they were unable to split Chinese defenses in the mid-section of the vital Wooning military highway between Shanghai and the Yangtze river.

In addition, Chinese guns won one of the heaviest artillery combats of the six-day campaign along the Wooning river.

The Japanese were blocked on three fronts and admitted that they were unable to split Chinese defenses in the mid-section of the vital Wooning military highway between Shanghai and the Yangtze river.

Japanese Shelled
Every Japanese warship in the harbor, including the antiquated Idzumo and an armed transport, opened fire with big guns and machine guns on Chinese positions at Pootung.

Chinese shells were falling within 100 feet of the Idzumo and the Japanese transport. Others fell in Hongkew, Japanese section of the International Settlement.

Shells fell all around the Japanese transport, crowded with soldiers, and it was forced to go down stream without landing troops. The Chinese barrage let up some after the transport got out of range.

SILVERADO
Mr. and Mrs. Champ Clark were recent visitors to Mexico.

FEDERAL EMPLOYEES TAKE SLAP AT CIO

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 10.—(UP)—Delegates to the Federation of Federal Employees convention held final sessions today after declaring their "uncompromising opposition" to strikes of government employees.

Committee for Industrial Organization leaders said they were "amazed and shocked" when Federation President Luther C. Steward mentioned the C.I.O. affiliate, the United Federal Workers of America, as "making a brazen bid for the scum of the federal personnel" who will become "mere pawns in the hands of outside labor leaders of dubious antecedents."

The children, themselves, and the general motoring public also have obligations in connection with school bus operation. Children must enter or leave the bus single file and be otherwise orderly. In alighting from the bus along a street, they must go to the front of the bus and stop at the left front wheel.

CHINA, SPAIN IN LEAGUE APPEAL

Nationalists, the League council at its opening session agreed to consider a loyalist appeal against alleged Italian aggression.

The appeal openly denounces Italy for "flagrant aggression" in attacking loyalist ships.

Coincidentally China prepared to appeal to the league assembly which opens Monday against Japan's invasion.

Seek U. S. Cooperation
The appeal will be phrased so as to seek the cooperation of the United States in consideration of China's plea.

To solicit United States aid, China will not make a new appeal to the league but will ask re-juvenation of an appeal of 1931, when Japan invaded Manchuria.

Under this appeal an international advisory committee was appointed in 1933, and the United States accepted membership.

Events moved dramatically as the league council and Mediterranean conferences got under way.

Britain in a surprise gesture toward Italy modified her drastic anti-submarine campaign in hope of enlisting Italy and Germany, who boycotted the Mediterranean conference.

Britain sought to try once more to gain the friendship of Italy, lost in the Ethiopian war crisis.

Plan Modified
Such drastic features of the anti-submarine plan as a shoot-to-sink convoy program were held in abeyance, though both Britain and France proceeded vigorously with their protective campaign by strengthening their battle fleets in the Mediterranean.

French delegates to the Mediterranean conference were reported to have ready a plan by which all nations would be asked to keep any submarines in the Mediterranean on the surface, and to fly their flags at all times. Under the French plan submerged submarines or flagless submarines would be considered "pirates," liable to merciless attack.

The day's events started with an implied affront to the totalitarian powers of Italy and Germany and to the Nationalist Junta of Spain.

Juan Negrin, premier of Loyalist Spain, was in the presiding chair when the council meeting opened. He took his place automatically as council members assume the chairmanship in alphabetical order.

But Negrin's chairmanship emphasized to Italy, to Germany and to the Nationalists—represented here by a strong undercover delegation—that the League of Nations government is the proper constituted, legal government of the republic.

Attend Conference
The League council, after agreeing to consider the Spanish appeal against the Italian warship attacks, adjourned until Tuesday. The adjournment was voted so that delegates could attend the opening conference of the Mediterranean conference late today.

It was proposed to hold the meeting at little Nyon, on the lake shore 12 miles from Geneva. But with Italy and Germany absent there was no reason to hold the meetings away from Geneva and it was understood that tomorrow's meeting, at any rate, would be held here.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Great Britain was selected as chairman of the Mediterranean conference.

However, Eden and Yvon Delbos, French foreign minister, conferred and decided that Delbos should preside.

The Chinese delegates—Wellington Koo, ambassador to France, and Que Tai-Chi, ambassador to Great Britain—hoped that by reviving their old appeal, the advisory committee would be reconvened and that the United States would send an observing member automatically.

Plan Fleet
Britain and France, who jointly convoked the Mediterranean conference, sought formation of an anti-pirate fleet to sink any warship that attacked ships of participating nations.

Britain and France were understood to have agreed tentatively on a system of "patrolled zones" in the Mediterranean through which safe passage would be assured merchantmen by warships. This zone to be shared as follows:

1.—British zone, Gibraltar to Marseilles.

2.—French zone, Marseilles to Sicily and along the French African coast.

3.—Italian zone, Sicily to Marseilles on the northward and Sicily to Italian Africa.

4.—Anglo-Egyptian zone, covering Egypt, Suez and Palestine.

5.—Greek zone, Greek waters.

6.—Turkish zone, Dardanelles and Turkish coast.

This plan hinged on Italy's acceptance of it. Britain and France, however, would take over the Italian zone if Italy declined to participate. Germany also would be asked to agree.

TAKE STEPS TO PROTECT PUPILS

four's license besides regular operator's license.

Plan Check System
"This year, as in the past, school bus drivers must be on the alert every moment they are behind the wheel," he continued, "as a strict check on their driving will be made regularly. Several licenses of school bus drivers were revoked last year because the drivers were not correct in details of handling their buses. Any driver who fails to stop at a railroad crossing is summarily dismissed from service. Also is the driver who cannot maintain discipline among children riding with him."

The children, themselves, and the general motoring public also have obligations in connection with school bus operation. Children must enter or leave the bus single file and be otherwise orderly. In alighting from the bus along a street, they must go to the front of the bus and stop at the left front wheel.

to await signal of the bus driver that the highway is safe to cross, if they wish to cross. Never may they stand on the sidewalk, or along the side of the road, and let the bus go on before crossing. Further, the bus must not leave until children crossing the street are across.

"That feature of safety ties in with the state law which requires all motorists to bring their cars to a complete stop when they approach a stopped bus either from the rear or front," Officer Peterkin said. "If the bus were not there and stopped, the motorists would not be required to stop and therefore the children would be in danger. In cases of heavily traveled highways, bus drivers are required to get out and escort the children across the street."

The motoring public's obligation is to stop when a school bus is stopped and to proceed thereafter at no greater speed than 10 miles per hour and at no speed which would endanger the children. Last year, several children were injured when motorists started too soon. As a further safety feature, insofar as possible, buses are driven upon the school property for loading of children after school.

LABOR GROUPS BATTLE LOOMS

Only perishables and government orders were exempted from the embargo.

The teamsters planned to organize their strategy through the West Coast Drivers' council, meeting which was called by Beck, who said it represented 80,000 workers.

Beck, who arrived here from Seattle early today by plane, said it was probable there would be an early spread of the San Francisco harbor blockade to Los Angeles.

"If the Los Angeles warehousemen don't quit organizing our teamsters we will take action," he said.

Told that the longshoremen-warehousemen wanted the National Labor Relations Board to conduct a ballot to determine which union the workers wanted to be affiliated with, he said:

"We are not interested in any vote. We are only interested in observance of A. F. of L. laws and the federation has given the teamsters jurisdiction."

FUMIGATION CASE SWITCHES COURTS
The suit was brought by Hecacy and Stone, Fullerton firm of orchard fumigators, against Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Marsden, owners of a 10-acre citrus grove, to collect a fumigation bill of $345.08, and the cross-complaint of the Marsdens asking $1216 damages for alleged injury done to 614 of their trees by the fumigators, today was transferred from Santa Ana justice court to superior court.

The amount involved the Marsdens' cross-complaint is above the $1000 jurisdiction of the lower court.

The Maharajah of Jodhur will be asked to play his polo team against U. S. teams at San Francisco's 1939 World Fair.

SEEK ATTACKER OF STANFORD STUDENT

PALO ALTO, Calif., Sept. 10.—(UP)—Angry citizens joined police today in the hunt for a young man who assaulted a pretty, 17-year-old girl on the edge of Stanford University campus.

The girl was enrolled at the university. She was said to be from a prominent Palo Alto family and police withheld her name.

The attacker kidnaped her in her automobile, took her to a secluded spot back of the campus, ravaged her and slashed her cheeks with a pair of scissors that she had seized to defend herself.

"There will be no rest for any man on the police force until this fiend is captured," Police Chief Howard Zink said. Scores of men volunteered their services to police and this university city bustled with its greatest manhunt in years.

HEALTH AUTHORITIES WARN WOMEN

SEVERAL HOURS LATER
I'LL BE ALL RIGHT TOMORROW. IT MUST HAVE BEEN THE HEAT... AND SCRUBBING AND BOILING THOSE CLOTHES.

YOU SIMPLY MUST STOP THAT SCRUBBING AND BOILING. NEXT WASHDAY I'M GOING TO BRING YOU MY PET LAUNDRY SOAP.

ONE WEEK LATER
OXYDOL? OH THAT'S ONE OF THOSE "SOAKING SOAPS". BUT I TRIED ONE ONCE AND IT FADED COLORS AND ALMOST RUINED MY HANDS.

BUT, OXYDOL IS A NEW KIND THE IVORY SOAP PEOPLE MAKE. IT'S SAFE AS CAN BE... YET IT SOAKS OUT DIRT IN 15 MINUTES.

AND YOU SAY IT GETS CLOTHES 4 TO 5 SHADES WHITER WITHOUT SCRUBBING OR BOILING AT ALL?

ABSOLUTELY WAIT AND SEE.

IT'S TRUE! ONLY 15 MINUTES SOAKING AND THESE CLOTHES WASHED WHITE AS SNOW.

JUST A FEW QUICK RUBS ON THE EXTRA DIRTY SPOTS... THAT'S ALL!

AT LAST! A "NO-SCRUB, NO-BOIL" SOAP

That's Safe as Can Be for Colors, Hands...

Millions of wash-weary women are finding relief this amazing way. For here's a "no-scrub" soap that's really safe! A soap that soaks out dirt in 15 minutes... yet banishes forever the fear of faded colors and rough, red hands!

OXYDOL was perfected by the makers of gentle Ivory soap, at the cost of $1,000,000. Combining speed and safety in an utterly new way, it does these 4 amazing things:

- (1) Soaks out dirt in 15 minutes, without scrubbing or boiling. Even grimy collar bands come snowy white with a few quick rubs.
- (2) Cuts washing time 25% to 40% in tub or machine.
- (3) Gets white clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter, proved by scientific Tintometer tests.
- (4) Yet so safe that every washable color comes out sparkling, brilliant, fresh. And hands stay soft and lovely. Even sheer cotton prints washed 100 consecutive times in Oxydol suds, showed no perceptible sign of fading.

It's economical, too! Tests show that, cup for cup, one package will go 4 to 5 times as far as the latest soap chips on the market. One package often gives twice the suds—does twice the work—lasts twice as long as less modern soaps.

Quit scrubbing your life away! Try this new safe "no-scrub" soap and end the drudgery of wash-day. Get Oxydol today. Procter & Gamble.

Y. M. BOYS GET SUPPORT GIVEN 3RD TERM PLAN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Six Democratic governors today went on record in support of a third term for President Roosevelt and three state executives announced opposition to such a proposal in a national survey of Democratic gubernatorial sentiment conducted by the United Press.

Two other governors indicated their sentiment in off the record statements. One opposed a Roosevelt third term. The other favored it. The remainder of the 38 Democratic state executives declined comment.

Named as Prospects
Two governors endorsing a Roosevelt third term have themselves frequently been mentioned as possible candidates for Democratic nomination in 1940. They were Govs. George Earle of Pennsylvania and Frank Murphy of Michigan. Other third term sponsors were Govs. James V. Allred, Texas, Richard W. Leche of Louisiana, Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina, and A. B. Chandler of Kentucky.

New Membership Plan
The new plan for boys' membership in the Y Boys' Department was fully explained, as adopted by the committee on Boys' Work. This plan is based on group membership. All boys who are members of "Y" groups will be made members of the Boys' Department, and all members of the Department will be assigned to organized groups, either in their churches, or in the home neighborhood, or in a group centered in the Y. M. C. A. building. The program of activities will then be built around the club work, so that the boys will swim and play in groups, as well as carry on their courses of Bible study and discussion.

Privileges Available
At present there are Friendly Indian and Pioneer groups in various sections of the community, together with the Hi-Y, the Sophomore Hi-Y and the Junior Hi-Y clubs. It is expected that at least 30 organized groups will be functioning within the next month as the boys get their plans under way. This plan carries out the "free" membership for boys which has been in effect for some years at the local "Y". Each boy pays a small registration fee in his club, ranging from 25 cents for Friendly Indians to 75 cents for Hi-Y, and this covers the expenses of his club and of his participation in the "Y" activities. This plan is made possible by the support given through the Community Chest to the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Department, by which means the "Y" privileges are made available to all boys without financial restrictions.

TOWNSEND NEWS

La Habra Townsend Club No. 1 will hold a potluck supper at 6:30 p. m. on Monday, Sept. 13, at the Masonic temple.

The business session, under the direction of E. E. Proud, will be held at 7:30 and following the business meeting Rev. C. W. Philleo, of Los Angeles, will be the speaker of the evening. Everyone interested in the Townsend movement is invited to attend.

A. M. Mapes, president of Santa Ana Club No. 8 will be the speaker at the meeting of Club No. 7 Monday, Sept. 13, at Orange and McFadden streets.

Santa Ana Club No. 2 will meet at the Townsend Hall Monday, Sept. 13. All are urged to attend this meeting as it is hoped that Fred Nelson, member of the Townsend hall administration board, who has been visiting in Turlock, will be there to give a report of the Townsend movement there.

Santa Ana Club No. 1 announces that the next meeting will be held on Friday instead of Thursday. Plans are being made for a potluck supper.

Members of the ladies auxiliary were entertained at the home of Mrs. Carl M. Ward, 2005 Orange avenue yesterday. Those present pronounced the meeting a huge success.

A subject of much discussion in Townsend gatherings is the letter received by Herbert F. Kenny from Field Representative Roy J. Webb, of the Chicago headquarters. Webb said, in part, "If I personally could not stay back of Dr. Townsend I would keep quiet."

DATE-FIG TREE
MARTSVILLE, Cal. (UP)—Orchard experimentalists here have succeeded in growing both figs and dates on the same tree and hope to develop an entirely new type of double producing plant.

TRAFFIC SPEEDED
MOSCOW (UP)—In one month since the Moscow-Volga canal was opened for traffic, 139,500 passengers and 121,000 tons of various freight have been transported along it.

ANAHEIM CASE DEMANDS SOAR

Partnership difficulties which J. D. Hardy and George O. Morse, of Anaheim, encountered in the refrigerator business and then brought into court for settlement were today transferred from Santa Ana justice court to superior court, because the amount involved became too large for the justice court jurisdiction.

Hardy, now a druggist, sued Morse to recover $731.73 which he loaned Morse. He made no mention of a partnership. Morse countered with a suit to dissolve partnership, to obtain an accounting from Hardy, and judgment for half of the partnership losses, which he estimated at about $2500.

Asks Half Losses
Morse's cross-complaint stated that to match Morse's $3300 stock inventory, but failed to do so. Hardy kept the books, Morse states. Early this year, according to Morse, Hardy told him he was through with their deal. Morse claims Hardy should stand half of the losses.

Hardy, according to Morse, was to put $3500 cash in the business, to match Morse's $3300 stock inventory, but failed to do so. Hardy kept the books, Morse states. CLUB TALKS ON WORLD AFFAIRS
World affairs dominated last night's dinner meeting of the El Camino Toastmasters' club held in Daniger's cafe. During the dinner, E. M. Sundquist president of the organization, presided. The table topic was "Shall America Protect Her Nationals in China?" and was introduced by Glenn Tidball. Malcolm Macnair was toastmaster during the dinner.

First place for talks following the dinner went to Ted Blanding who discussed "History of Russia's Foreign Policy." His critic was Hubert Gohres. Second place was awarded to Sundquist for his "Outline of World Affairs." Sundquist's critic was William Fernandez. Ernest Layton, discussing "An Analogue Philosophy," was given third place. His critic was Dr. W. L. Jolivet.

Other speakers were: Charles Caulkins, discussing "America Must Slow Down," with George Maxwell as critic; and Phil Hood who talked on "Pellegra" with Nolan Doss as critic. Joe Daniger was general critic.

Oddities In Today's News Items

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Miss Sydney Simms is convinced you can't win on the numbers game, even though she collects $1,200 on a $2 investment. Three men with slouch hats and guns invaded her home and took the money away, she told police.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Police Lieut. Bernard Wolf testified he had arrested Oliver Felt as a suspicious person during a convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Felt, he said, was approaching persons he apparently did not know and whispering to them. Felt explained he was merely lobbying in an election of officers. He won a judgment of $250 for false arrest.

BEREA, O., Sept. 10.—(UP)—City council, at its next meeting, will debate the question of how far a goat can be smelled. Up for consideration is an ordinance making it illegal to keep a goat within 1000 feet of a residence.

S. D. SCHOOLS TO OPEN
SAN DIEGO, Sept. 10.—(UP)—After a postponement of one week, "as a precautionary measure" against spread of infantile paralysis here, San Diego schools will reopen Monday, it was announced today.

No new cases of the dread disease have been reported in the last week and the San Diego County Medical society in a statement said "apprehension over the situation now may be relieved."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief
Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisons waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

GAS WORKERS TO ATTEND OUTING

Plans for a picnic to be held Sunday in Irvine park were discussed last night at a meeting of the Santa Ana chapter of the Pacific Gas Workers Union, according to Russell Rowland, recording secretary.

The local chapter will be host to union members and their families from Ventura, Los Angeles, Whittier, Santa Monica and Downey.

It was also announced that on Sept. 18 the union will sponsor a smoker and variety show to be held at Lakewood Country Club near Long Beach.

Plans for a membership drive were revealed when John H. Fox, president of the chapter, named the following as workers on a membership committee: W. D. Tibbs, C. L. Berge, W. W. White, H. E. Pettit and Edgar Hull.

PASTOR LISTS TOPICS
WINTERSBURG, Sept. 10.—

"Getting Enthusiastic About Religion" will be the topic of the Sunday morning sermon of the Rev. George A. Quayle, pastor of Wintersburg First Methodist church. The evening subject will be "The Joy of Life."

Ken Murray SAYS:

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 10.—Let's suppose you have taken the screen test to bust into the movies. Well, the test is not given to see if you can act. You do not have to know how to act in the movies. The director tells you just what to do. That is what he is paid for.

If the script calls for you to fall out of an eight-story window, the director tells you just how to fall. He does not show you by example how to fall the eight stories, but by deft suggestions he advises how to land on your neck and not hurt yourself a bit. In brief, a director is a fellow who tells a $6000-a-week actor how to act.

No, the purpose of the screen test is to see how you look on the screen. Many girls who are beautiful and dumb just look dumb on the silver sheet. And many girls show up like a million dollars. This is in spite of the old adage that you can't fool all of the people all of the time. The movies were invented after Abraham Lincoln died.

And don't be discouraged if you fail to pass the test because you are too dumb. In that case, you are just the type for the scenario department.

This was the announcement of Frank Nielsen and Anthony Knip, officers of the local chapter, who said that more than 35,000 members of the institute will be "tuned in" for the exercises. Riekey will have as his topic for discussion, "The Score Board."

ALICE C. BROWN RETURNS
LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 10.—Miss Alice C. Brown, formerly in charge of WPA pottery classes in Laguna Beach, returned this week from a trip through Europe, in the course of which she visited various art centers in Vienna, Paris, Munich, Brussels and the British isles. Miss Brown's future plans have not yet been announced, although it is expected that she will resume activities in local art and sculpture circles.

SALVATION ARMY PLANS NOVEL FALL CAMPAIGN IN SANTA ANA

BY FRANK COOKEY

Movies of Hawaii, free "grab bags" containing toys for boys and girls, and other special activities will help usher in the fall campaign of the Salvation Army, it was announced today by Major John Naton, who is in charge of the Army here.

Following a two day convention of Southern California Field Officers Council at Long Beach earlier in the week under the direction of A. D. Jackson, divisional commander, and attended by Major and Mrs. Naton, the local headquarters will start an active campaign to assist young men and women in the community along social and economic lines.

This Sunday has been designated as "Rally Day" and the evening meeting at the Army hall will have as a feature attraction free "grab bags" containing toys for boys and girls.

Movies of Hawaii, taken by Major Naton during his five years stay there, will be shown on Sept. 25-26 as a part of the national demonstration to be staged by the Army in starting the official fall campaign.

SPEAKER LAUDS NEWSPAPERS IN SMALL CITIES

Declaring that too often so called "streamlined" newspapers should be called "screamed," Anson C. Bushnell, advertising manager of the Christian Science Monitor's Los Angeles office, yesterday told the Lions club of the importance of the newspaper in the community.

"The importance of the newspaper can be seen in the fact that every year editors of the newspapers of this country receive more than 40,000,000 letters from women alone, covering almost every subject in the world," Bushnell said.

Accuracy Vital "Not only does the newspaper give the news but it forms public opinion, gives us most of our conversation, and helps us to function both socially and politically.

"Because of its importance, it is necessary that our newspapers give us the facts uncolored and without distortion, and give emphasis to information that is important and not to the sensational and in this Reynolds, Edward LaFlamme, communities are much better than those in the metropolitan areas.

Uncensored Press "Not only in the news but in the advertising as well it is necessary to give true, undistorted facts, and the people of this country can be thankful that we have an uncensored press," Bushnell concluded.

President Frank Harwood presided at the meeting and introduced Games were played and horse-

STRANGE INSCRIPTION JUST PLAIN WISH, ARTIST SAYS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Vilhjamur Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, acting as a translator with the aid of "northern friends," said today that artist Rockwell Kent had painted on a wall of the post office building in the capital of the United States, an exhortation of Puerto Rico to throw off American rule.

This was Stefansson's reading of the inscription Kent put in his mural depicting the delivery of mail in a tropical island, presumably Puerto Rico. It was phrased in an obscure language which had baffled all linguists, official and unofficial, in Washington, but which Stefansson identified as the Kuskokwim dialect spoken by Eskimos in southern Alaska.

Speaks of Freedom

He and his "northern friends," whom he said were more familiar with the dialect than he was, translated this gibberish: "Puerto Rico Minueta! Hapitumum! Ke Ha Chimmeklut Angayoracut. Anna Kitchimmi Attumim Chuli Wapitum Itti Cleoraatig Ut," as meaning: "To the People of Puerto Rico, Our Friends! Go ahead. Let us change chiefs. That alone can make us equal and free."

What official action, if any, would be taken could not be ascertained immediately. The murals are in the postoffice department under the jurisdiction of Postmaster General James A. Farley who must pass the exhortation to get to his office.

The procurement division of the treasury department purchased Kent's services. Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes, who returns from vacation today, oversees Puerto Rico and all other possessions of the United States.

Kent Gives Views

The mural is across the corridor from another by Kent depicting the delivery of mail in the Arctic, and which suggests that the painter had intended it to be a letter carrier from one mural to another. The exhortation, presented as a letter, is being read by four, straight haired, brown skinned, bare footed girls who have their arms raised, as in joy. Their appearance is that of Puerto Ricans.

AUSABLE FORKS, N. Y., Sept. 10.—(UP)—Artist Rockwell Kent, painter of murals on the walls of the postoffice building in Washington said today the "mysterious" writing was a wish from the Eskimos that Puerto Rico is successful in its fight for independence.

The artist said the writing was not recommending "revolution, but a peaceful means of obtaining independence." He said he had not advised postoffice officials of the meaning of the writing.

LIONS CLUB AIDS BLIND

LORAIN, O. (UP)—Adult members of the Lorain County blind class have received whistles for use at street intersections, the gift, together with red-tipped white canes, of the Lorain Lions club.

The sports program of the Golden Gate International Exposition in 1938 ranges from horseshoe pitching to air races.

BOULEVARD GARDENS

BOULEVARD GARDENS, Sept. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Aventura entertained as house guests this week, Mrs. Aventura's brother, Albert Mills, and family, of Fresno. Two beach parties and a family dinner at the Aventura home entertained during their stay. Those who participated in the family parties were the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Mills and family; Mr. and Mrs. Newby and son, Jim, of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. W. Rowley and children and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Aventura.

Long Beach, prior to the departure of the group, was attended by 50 relatives and friends, with the local persons present including Mr. and Mrs. F. E. ## GEORGE DREXLER TO SPEAK AT CHURCH

George Drexler, former stage vocalist and actor, will be the speaker at 7:30 p. m. today at the Free Methodist church, Fruit and Minter streets.

Drexler said that at one time he was on the stage with Eddie Cantor when both of them were just starting their stage careers. Drexler then had just arrived in the United States from London, where he was born. Some time later he came to California, accepted religion and abandoned the stage. Since that time he has been singing the gospel story, he said.

"CASINO DE PAREE" BRINGS LIBEL SUIT

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Yermi Stern, operator of the former Casino De Paree, today filed a $1,000,000 libel suit against Warner Brothers Pictures Inc.

Stern contended that the film, "Go Into Your Dance" depicted a night club similar to the Casino De Paree and represented its owner as a gangster and racketeer.

In foreign countries, the complaint alleges, the picture is being shown under the title "Casino De Paree."

THIRD AND SYCAMORE — SANTA ANA

COOK 'DEAN' AT 32
Bill Cook is only 32, yet he has the title of "dean" among southern California's junior college football coaches. He's starting his eleventh season with the Santa Ana Lions.

Coch Cook admits a mild interest in the Glendale vacancy, which has been approached by Glendale or anyone else.

"But money talks," said Cook, commenting on a report that Glendale officials had him under the microscope for the job formerly occupied by "Sad Sam" Tension.

HAIL LEHNHARDT!

This is taken from the Football annual, the coast-to-coast preview of the gridiron, now on the newstands:

"With the graduation of Clarence Hapes, 235-pound fullback, Coach Ed Walker of Mississippi has dropped the double wing-back formation and has reverted to the single wing set-up.

"Ray Hapes, 175-pound brother of the departing Colossus, is the one around whom the Rebel attack will be built. For two years he has been one of the most dangerous open-field runners in the south, showing speed and agility.

"Sophomore John Lehnhardt, another Californian, looks to be the Doctor Walker ordered. He's a robust 150-pounder (175 would be about right) and as a rookie he declared the fairest prospect of Mississippi's annals."

Yes, that's our John, the same in Ole Miss! Rah, rah!

MAYBE HE'S RIGHT

Walt Collins comes up with a new reason, why Irvine's club has been going so good in the Southern California football tournament. . . . Right of the players are employed at the Irvine beamhouse, where all employees are out on strike. Instead of working 14 hours a day they just picket the place on easy shifts. So by game-time they're fresh as spring daisies.

DON-STANFORD ITINERARY

Oh, to be a Don!
You ought to see the itinerary of the Santa Anans for their trip to Palo Alto to play Stanford's coach September 25, in a preliminary to the Stanford-Santa Clara rivalry engagement.

The Don squad, numbering about 40, will travel in a special car attached to the Southern Pacific's coaster. Leaving the Santa Ana station at 4:15 p.m. (Friday the 24th) the train pulls out of Los Angeles at 6:05. It arrives in Palo Alto in time for breakfast Saturday.

After being guests of Stanford at the varsity feature, the Dons' train will be moved to San Francisco, leaving Palo Alto at 6 p.m. The squad will have a night and a day in San Francisco, showing off or home Sunday night at 6:15. Their special reaches Los Angeles at 8 a.m. Monday. A special Pacific Electric car will bring the troupe into Santa Ana at 9:15. The Southern Pacific is giving the jays a special rate of $11.05 per player, offers to extend this rate to Santa Ana fans. Those who take advantage of it can go on the same train as the Dons, but of course not in the players' coach.

PICO CHANGES HIS MIND

Pio Pico (Lupe LeMon) must have thought twice and decided against turning wrestler. The Fullerton heavyweight is on the next card at the Hollywood Legion. He's fighting Jack Roper.

Begin Grid 'War' Games

THREE COUNTY NINES BATTLE TOURNEY FOES

Still going strong, all three of Orange county's standard-bearers parade to the post tonight in the Southern California football tournament at Los Angeles.

Santa Ana's Elks probably draw the toughest assignment at 7 o'clock.

Kenneth Miller's co-champions of the City League travel to Good-year Field (6701 South Central avenue) to play San Bernardino, "dark horse" of the tourney. San Bernardino last night bounced out one of the favored seeded teams, Consumers Credit, before a mob of 2500 at Wrigley field.

Irvine's mighty Bearpicks, which last night turned in another dazzling performance by eliminating the strong Santa Barbara nine at Hollywood, 2 to 1—return to Fiedler field (Sunset and El Centro) to meet Safeway Stores, a crack Los Angeles outfit. This game is due at 7:45.

Orange's Lionettes also play at Fiedler field, moving against Bud Averill's Ponies as soon as the Irvine-Safeway contest is completed.

Walt Collins comes up with a new reason, why Irvine's club has been going so good in the Southern California football tournament. . . . Right of the players are employed at the Irvine beamhouse, where all employees are out on strike. Instead of working 14 hours a day they just picket the place on easy shifts. ## Dons To Scrimmage Sailors Next Tuesday

What may develop into a regular Tuesday afternoon scrimmage will be inaugurated by the Santa Ana Jaycees Dons at the Municipal Bowl next week when they work out with a sailor eleven from the U. S. S. Mississippi, anchored off Long Beach.

This will be the Dons' first contact work against an outside outfit. The informal set-to will begin at 2:30, and the public will be welcome.

Coach Bill Cook said the Dons and the Mississippi tars will scrimmage every week if "it works out all right."

The sailors are coached by ensigns out of the U. S. Naval academy and several former Annapolis athletes also play regularly.

Five more Dons checked out unites yesterday to bring the total enrollment up to 54.

Lead by Co-Captain Ed Stanley, well-built blocking half from Orange, who starred in numerous games last fall, the newcomer got right down to business in the fight for starting berths in the Pasadena encounter a week from tonight. Among these were Bill

'We Can't Get Him Out' Moans Grimm Of P. Waner

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK.—The conversation was about Joe Medwick vs. Paul Waner for the National League batting championship. Seven baseball writers had gathered in Charlie Grimm's room on a rainy day recently and were pumping the Chicago Cubs' manager dry.

Charlie, in his undershirt and sock feet, said, "Well, if that Paul Waner played against everyone like he does against the Cubs, there wouldn't be any doubt who'd win the batting title. We can't get him out."

"I'll tell you what he did in a game against us recently. We went into the ninth inning leading by one run. A storm comes up and it gets so dark the players should have had flashlights on the caps to see the ball. Then it starts to rain. I can't even see the ball from the dugout. Shoun is pitching for us and I order him to throw nothing but fast balls. Well, he comes in there with a fast ball on the first pitch. Bing! Paul don't even wait to see if he has his eye on the ball. He just swings and it's a line single to left. That's the kind of hitter he is."

"Doesn't Paul Waner have any weakness?"

"Yes," said Charlie, "he can't hit those balls you throw under the plate."

"Paul certainly makes it tough on some of the scorers," said a scribe. "He gets a lot of hits he just beats out."

"When Paul can't get a good piece of the ball," said Grimm, "he gets just enough of it to dump it between somebody or to put it where he has a chance to beat it out."

"How do you rank Medwick?"

"He's the most natural right-handed hitter I ever saw," said Grimm. "He's better than Hornsby, who couldn't hit a ball that was two inches outside even with the count 3-2. Not Medwick—he'll go after anything he can get his bat on and hit it just as well as a good strike. Medwick goes up there with his mind made up to hit and he doesn't go away from the plate unless he swings that bat at something."

"Medwick's batting average would be a lot higher if they had the sacrifice fly rule now in vogue," said a scribe. "That helped Hornsby's average a few points by saving him times at bat."

"Yes," but Medwick isn't any sacrifice fly hitter. He's up there to get a base-hit. And when he hits a ball cleanly he's apt to knock somebody down. He hits line drives, and I mean red-hot line drives. Paul Waner doesn't hit 'em as far or as hard, but he's the toughest little man I ever saw to get out. He'll run you crazy while Medwick will knock you crazy. It's all the same thing, in the long run."

O'HARA BAILED OUT SOARING SEALS TIE IN FEUD WITH GOV. PADRES FOR SECOND

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Walter O'Hara, publisher and managing director of the Narragansett race track, was freed on $10,000 bond today, after he had pleaded not guilty to two charges of criminal libel—the latest development in the feud with Governor Robert E. Quinn.

O'Hara was arrested by state police last night in his penthouse apartment above the race track offices in Pawtucket, R. I., where he had been shielded for nearly two hours by 30 Pawtucket policemen. He was arraigned here in West Warwick district court, released, re-arrested immediately and arraigned in sixth district court on a second complaint. Bail in each instance was fixed at $5000.

One complaint was signed by Quinn, who had been termed a "liar" by O'Hara's newspaper, the Providence Star-Tribune. (The paper did not use dashes) the second was signed by William E. Beaman, general counsel for an advertising firm, who said that he had been libeled in another article published by O'Hara.

The publisher's bond was furnished by Mayor Thomas P. McCoy of Pawtucket.

Mrs. McVicar Is Winner At Golf

Mrs. Phil McVicar yesterday won the women's "even-hole" tournament at the Santa Ana Country club course, registering a 44-5-36 for nine holes. Second place was captured by Mrs. C. V. Doty, with a 44-6-38.

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Elmer Layden, Notre Dame's athletic director and head football coach, opened training for another "suicide football schedule" today with a squad of 124 candidates.

The ends and fullback jobs were expected to cause Layden considerable trouble.

75 ON TROJAN ROSTER; 60 IN BRUIN TURNOUT

BY UNITED PRESS)

LOS ANGELES.—Sixty players turned out for the second day of football practice at U. C. L. A. today. Light exercises yesterday were the Bruins' only workout before newscaster cameramen took over the session.

LOS ANGELES.—Coach Howard Jones of the University of Southern California put a squad of 75 men through light drills today in preparation for scrimmage next week. He said material is "better than for years."

LOS ANGELES.—Fifty football candidates reported for uniforms at Loyola university today and were given a light workout. The Lions are the only major team in Southern California not bound to a conference.

BERKELEY.—A squad of 91 men, divided into four teams, went into serious workouts today under Coach "Stub" Allison as he lined up his material for the 1937 grid season. Fifty-one who turned out were varsity men.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY

—Coach "Tiny" Thornhill viewed top-notch material among the 45 varsity men who turned out for opening practice and drill for the football team but made several tentative changes in position over last year's lineup. Tony Calvelli, who played fullback last year, started in center yesterday, and Jim Groves, from San Mateo junior college, went to fullback.

MORAGA.—With an early game scheduled Sept. 25 against California, Edward (Slip) Madigan, St. Mary's grid coach, planned heavy workouts today for his squad. There were 48 in the varsity squad and material from the "goofs" gave Madigan ample raw material to work over.

SEATTLE.—The Pacific Coast conference title-holding Washington Huskies opened the football season with the prophecy today that they would retain their laurels this year.

Coach Jimmy Pethan began sorting material for his first game of the season with Iowa Sept. 25 and said he would have as strong a team as last year.

PULLMAN, Wash.—"Babe" Hollingberry, the coach who put Washington State on the grid map, looked over a field of 30 regulars and candidates and then, because of excessive heat, delayed regular workouts at the opening of the football practice here yesterday. A slight injury kept "Chub" Holmes, an end, off the field.

MOSCOW, Ida.—First scrimmage by University of Idaho gridriders was scheduled for tomorrow, Coach Ted Bank announced today.

He had 84 men turn out for opening practice yesterday and 20 more were expected to show up today.

CORVALLIS, Ore.—The policy of breaking them in rough to weed out the weaklings was followed by Coach Lon Stiner, of Oregon State. He opened practice with field scrimmages and said war games would continue twice daily until shortly before the opening game with Idaho Sept. 24.

EUGENE, Ore.—Forty-three men, including 16 lettermen, answered Prince Callison's call for material for the 1937 grid squad.

In addition to the lettermen, Callison had 17 from last year's frosh to draw on.

BIG TEN FOOTBALL TEAMS IN TRAINING

CHICAGO.—Big Ten football coaches—two of them new at their jobs—summoned approximately 900 ambitious athletes to open practice today with the old problem of how to beat Minnesota still the chief worry.

Even Bernie Bierman, coach of the mighty gophers who finally fell against Northwestern last season, 6 to 0, had to find the answer. He had a squad of 100 to help him.

The newcomers were Ed Tubbs, who succeeded Ozzie Solem at Iowa, and Mal Edward, Purdue's assistant coach, elected to handle the Boiler-makers during the illness of Athletic Director Noble Kizer.

Public Tough On Champions

Budge Davis Cup Ace, Greeted Coldly By Fans

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK.—The more sports events I see in this country, the more I am amazed that the dear old United States produces as many champions as it does.

The American customers are very, very tough on champions. Just to the fellow work his way to the No. 1 spot and he becomes the No. 1 target of the boys and girls in the gallery. Their one aim, when they lay out their money for tickets, is to get seats which will provide them with a commanding view of the downfall of the head man.

The latest exhibition of this peculiar national trait came at Forest Hills yesterday when John Donald Budge played a quarter-final match against one Joe Hunt. Budge is the tennis champion, the No. 1 in the world, so all he got from the crowd for a solid hour of magnificent shot-making was a rather cold and unfriendly silence. On the other hand Hunt, who is just another workman, and who doesn't belong in the same league with the California redhead, was tremendously applauded whenever he made a winning shot.

Such an attitude is hard to explain. Budge is modest and has perfect court manners. He won the Davis Cup for this country after others had been failing for 10 years. And the only thrills of the match were provided by his superb artistry. It would seem, would it not, that he would be the one to receive the plaudits of the customers, especially in view of the fact that tennis fans, more than those of any other sport, appreciate the fine points of the sport they love?

But no, Hunt, the under-dog, was the favorite. The crowd wanted to see Budge knocked off, and they resented the perfection of the shots that crushed his opponent.

Its the same in boxing and all other sports. Joe Louis licked Tommy Farr with as fine a display of left jabbing as any heavyweight champion has ever shown, yet his victory was greeted with five minutes of concentrated boos and catcalls. Appreciation of the champion's perfect skill was smothered under a desire to see the crude and clumsy Farr upset him.

Tommy Hitchcock in polo, Babe Ruth in baseball, Notre Dame in football, all have felt the hostility of the American crowd toward the standout performer.

The one exception that I know of was Bob Jones. The Atlantan was a champion that the crowd went for, body and soul. The fairway customers whooped and hollered with joy when he won, and suffered the inside miseries when he lost.

BUDGE CRUSHES FRANK PARKER 6-2, 6-1, 6-3

FOREST HILLS.—Before a sell-out crowd of nearly 1,000 persons, Jadwiga Jedrejowska of Poland today blasted her way to the final round of the women's division of the National tennis championships with a 6-4, 6-4 victory over Helen Jacobs of California, four times winner of the title.

The match was the third sell-out in the 14-year history of the stadium, the other two being in 1927 when Bill Tilden licked LaCoste and in 1932 when Ely Vines crushed Henri Cochet.

The battle between Jadwiga and Helen, the first of today's four semi-final engagements was purely a battle between attack and defence, with the Polish amazon doing the attacking. Jadwiga simply battered down Miss Jacobs' resolute defense with man-sized forehands to the corners and thundering overhead smashes.

The Californian rarely attacked, choosing to remain at the baseline and try to win on steadiness. But it was a futile move.

Gunning for the only title he needs to make his amateur tennis monarchy an absolute one, Donald Budge of California trounced Frank Parker of New York, 6-2, 6-1, 6-3, to go into the final round of the men's championship.

The red-headed Wimbledon champion crushed his Davis Cup partner beneath a barrage of flawless shots.

The PAYOFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(Sport Editor, NEA Service)

NEW YORK—Eager to strengthen the National League in what should be its third best city, President Ford Frick and John Heydler are urging the Brooklyn owner to name Frank O'Doul manager. . . . Since leaving the senior circuit, O'Doul has enjoyed considerable success in San Francisco, where he developed Joe DiMaggio and Joe Mauer. . . . President Emeritus Heydler saw "Lefty" in action on the Pacific Coast and liked him. . . . Trying to make an outfielder of Buddy Hassett and then removing him from a game with the Cubs after the first baseman had fumbled a bunt that led to the loss of the contest made Burrell Grimes the target for more criticism in Flatbush. . . . According to Roy Johnson, the Cubs' first base coach, Grimes yelled something from the bench to Hassett about "getting two hands on the ball." . . . Whereupon, the Chicago coach said, Hassett made a vitriolic retort with the added invitation to his manager to "come out and do the job yourself if you think you can do it better." . . . It was this that brought Grimes storming out on the field to take Hassett out of the game. . . . En route to the dugout, Buddy paused long enough to tell Grimes that "you have never liked me, and I'll be here when you're gone."

Rudy York, current home-run hero of the majors, has only one weakness as a catcher, according to Joe McCarthy of the Yankees. . . . York is so huge that he has difficulty catching low pitches. . . . There is hope for York, however, for if some over-sized backstops had such a fault they corrected it, Larry McLean, Chief Meyers, Pancho Snyder, and Ernie Lombardi among them. . . . Bill Dickey isn't exactly a Singer's midget in height. . . . It isn't a case of York's power at the plate having to cover a multitude of sins, for outside of being somewhat less capable than was Mickey Cochrane at plucking the pellet out of the dirt, Detroit's Indian is a good enough receiver with a strong and accurate arm. . . . Chicago baseball writers lacked faith in the Cubs even before the men of Wrigley Field dissipated what was a comfortable lead. . . . Besides putting a crimp in the Dodgers' batting punch, Helene Manush's leg injury delayed his entrance into the 3500-hit circle. . . . The veteran of both majors requires eight more to reach that mark.

Fanchon and Marco are booking Joe DiMaggio outside of baseball. . . . The Yankee luminary is to tour with his two brothers—Vince of the Bees and bespectacled young Dominic of the San Francisco Seals—this fall and winter. . . . Among other things, Joe will sing. . . . He warbles very well in the picture recently completed and for which he was paid $2500. . . . Meanwhile, Yankee officials are more concerned about the condition of their principal card than the severe batting slump he suffered on the club's western trip. . . . Frankly, the boy at times appeared to be not in the best of shape. . . . Christy Walsh, pappy of ghost writers, has severed connections with all except his football coaches. . . . And Walsh dropped one of them, Elmer Layden of Notre Dame, "because he was too hard to handle and wouldn't go along." . . . Bob Zupke of Illinois replaces Layden. . . . Walsh is to devote most of his time to radio and picture shorts. . . . The widely traveled Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sarazen start a pleasure trip around the world, Sept. 8, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Al Lasker. . . . Being a star golf professional certainly is a tough life.

BOOKIES MAKE YANKS 2-1 IN WORLD SERIES

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK.—With only 43 days of the major league baseball season remaining, all indications pointed today toward another all-New York world series.

The Yanks have a 11-game lead with only 27 games left to play. If the Yanks win 14, the second-place Detroit Tigers would have to win all 25 of their remaining games to beat them out.

The Giants still have to contend with the Cubs but they have a three-game lead with 27 games left to play. If they win 17 the Cubs will have to win 20 out of 25 to win the pennant.

Bookmakers already are quoting the Yanks 2-1 favorites to win the world title regardless of who wins the National league pennant. If the Cubs win, the odds may make the Yanks as high as 3-1, longest priced favorite in world series history.

Nutshell news from yesterday's baseball front:

Shook—Yankees blew two leads, one of four runs, and lost to the Red Sox, who made six errors, by a 13-7 score. The win put Boston back in fourth place.

Surprise—Luke Hamlin outpitched Carl Hubbell to give Brooklyn a 5-1 victory over the Giants. The Giants collected 14 hits to win the second game, 9-2.

Revenge—Lon Warneke, traded down the river to St. Louis last winter by the Cubs, checked Chicago, 8-2. The victory broke a string of 11 straight Cub victories over the Cards.

Jinx—Pittsburgh maintained its spell over Cincinnati by winning its 13th victory in 14 games, 1-0. Ed Brandt outpitched Gene Schott.

Newcomer—Washington's rookie pitcher, Joe Kraskauskas, up from Trenton (N.Y.-Pa. league), held the Athletics to one hit in seven innings in a relief role and won his first game, 13-6.

Struggle—Coming from behind four times Detroit finally subdued Cleveland, 10-9, on Billy Rogell's single in the ninth.

Desair—The St. Louis Browns blew two leads to the Chicago White Sox and finally lost, 9-8, for their 11th defeat in 12 games. The other game was a tie. The Browns out-hit the Sox, 18 to 16, but left 13 men stranded.

FLANAGAN GOES FOR SECOND SWIM TITLE

CHICAGO — Ralph Flanagan, Olympic veteran who swam 500 miles training for the National A. A. championships, went after his second 1937 crown today after shattering one world and three American records defending the first of his three titles.

His performance in the one mile made the 20-year-old Miami star a heavy favorite to retain his 440-yard free style championship today and go on to win the half-mile again tomorrow.

Adolph Kiefer, Chicago's world backstroke champion, who hasn't been licked indoors or out since he opened his first National campaign, will defend his 100 meter backstroke title. Finals also will be held in the three-meter springboard dive, 220 yard breaststroke, and half-mile free style relay.

Tuna Fishermen In Novel Matches

It takes three men to haul this huge tuna over the side of the boat in Lobster Bay, at Wedgeport, N. S., where U. S. deep sea fishermen and English anglers meet in the International Tuna Angling Cup matches, Sept. 11-13.

Michael Lerner, right, noted author, sportsman, and member of the U. S. big game fishing team, relaxes and poses proudly with his catch. That's Capt. Ede LeBlanc of Wedgeport sitting with Lerner.

BY JIMMY DUNN
(NEA Service Sports Writer)

WEDGEPORT, N. S.—Not content with heated rivalries in golf, tennis, polo, yacht racing and boxing, America and England meet in an international fishing contest, Sept. 11-13.

Probably the first of its kind, this unique tournament, the International Tuna Angling Cup Matches, will be held in the famous Lobster Bay off this town, a spot developed by Michael Lerner, noted sportsman, into probably the greatest tuna fishing grounds in the world.

The cream of both British and American big game anglers are to take part in the team matches which cover three full days. Arrangements being made for the matches are as just as stringent and exacting as those which govern the hotly contested America Cup race, or Davis Cup encounters.

There'll be 10 men on each team, and contestants will draw different opponents for their boat every day. One point will be allowed for the largest fish taken in a boat, and one for the greatest number of fish.

BEST IN U. S. ON TEAM

Tackle used will be weighed and approved by a committee, and no one is allowed to aid in capturing a fish until the swivel is within reach of the boatman. Thirty-six thread line, any wooden rod, tip to weigh 33 ounces and not shorter than five feet, with any type of reel, is the accepted tackle.

The American squad of seven, with three alternates, is to be made up from the following list: S. Kip Farrington Jr., of East Hampton, L. I., the captain. Henry Strater, president of the Maine Tuna club, who has fished all northern and southern tuna waters.

B. Davis Crowninshield, who holds the Wedgeport and Lunenburg tuna records in Nova Scotia, and one of the best of the big game anglers.

A. Pam Blumenthal, a tuna veteran who ranks with the best. Hugo Rutherford, the only man on the east coast who has caught two marlin weighing over 500 pounds.

Ponies Win In 9th; Neva Hurls Tonight

Determined to win the "key" game of the series, Huntington Beach sends The Great Louis Neva Novikoff to the box tonight against Anaheim. Deadlocked two-and-two, the clubs collide at Huntington Beach.

Neva worked only two-thirds of an inning in a relief capacity when Anaheim beat the Oilers Wednesday night, but he will start the fifth game, according to a definite announcement by Manager Joe Rodgers. The Huntington Beach batting order also will be shaken up with Novikoff swinging third.

Anaheim will stand pat, but use Pitcher Wilbur Stinchfield in a starter's role for the first time.

Striking in the last of the ninth after they were apparently beaten, San Bernardino pushed around two runs to eliminate Santa Ana from the National League's Shagnessy series at San Bernardino last night. The score was 4 to 3.

A "home town decision" at third base prolonged the heated rally and virtually gave San Bernardino victory.

San Bernardino now marks time until Anaheim and Huntington Beach conclude the other semi-final playoff. The Ponies meet the survivor of the Orange county series.

BOTTS INJURED

What may prove a disastrous blow to San Bernardino's chances in the final National league series was suffered on the last play of the Santa Ana-San Bernardino game last night.

Sliding into home plate with the winning run in the ninth, Piche Venn Botts turned his right angle so severely that he had to have medical assistance and had to be assisted off the field. It is problematical how long he will be out of the Ponies' lineup.

ries in a four-out-of-seven event, beginning late next week.

Santa Ana went into the last of the ninth nursing a 3-2 lead—thanks to Fred Wiener's long home run with two on in the fourth.

First up, Wayne Watson bounced a hit over second and got a double by daring base-running.

Manager "Doc" Smith and other Santa Anans thought the next play cost the Stars the ball game. Pitcher Venn Botts bunted along the third base line. Tommy Young took the ball on an easy first hop, wheeled around and threw to Charley Comstock, who covered third.

Watson was apparently out by several feet but Umpire Stoudt called him safe.

After five minutes of wrangling, during which the Stars talked of walking off the field in protest, play was resumed. Wiener promptly singled infield, letting Watson score the tying run and putting Botts on second. Ed Daley sacrificed, Young to Mott. It was the first out. Coates got two strikes on Sweet but finally walked him, filling the bases. Kelley popped a fly in short center. Comstock made a nice running catch but Botts beat his throw home after the catch on another decision that aroused the wrath of Santa Ana partisans.

Errors gave San Bernardino its first two runs. Mechanical rather than umpire's errors gave San Bernardino its earlier runs. In the second, Shaddox bounced an infield single, went to second when Smith muffed Gibson's double-play ball, to third on Schletzer's sacrifice and scored when Mott dropped Comstock's throw to first that would have required Watson—and the side. In the third, Weiser dumped a Texas league double back of third, took third on Daley's sacrifice. Sweet hit to Comstock who threw Weiser out at home but Wallin dropped the ball.

10-TEAM CITY LEAGUE LIKELY IN BASKETBALL

Basketball comes into its own once more.

The Y.M.C.A. basketball committee met last night to formulate plans for the season's play, and it was indicated that there will be a strong interest and lively competition this winter.

Plans were laid for a 10-team league to include both church and commercial teams, and to start play October 18. This will enable the first round to be completed before Christmas, so that the second round will start the first of January and end the first of March. An effort is to be made to secure a fair distribution of players so that all teams will be well matched.

Preference will be given to Santa Ana teams, and no outside teams will be invited unless there are vacancies after all local teams are entered. Players must either live in Santa Ana or be employed by a sponsoring firm.

The Y.M.C.A. committee on basketball includes Quentin Matzen as chairman, with Lester W. Slaback, Paul Teter, Glenn Johnson, Maurice White and Paul King as members. They will have general charge of the league organization and will serve as an eligibility committee. The committee has called an open meeting of men interested in playing or entering teams, to be held at the Y.M.C.A. next Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Basketball practice will get under way October 18, it was stated by Chairman Matzen, and regular play will begin October 18.

The "Y" schedule of gymnasium work provides Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evening of each week for basketball from October 1 to March.

WATER SAVING PLAN REVIVED BY DIRECTORS

Directors of the Orange County Water District, through appointment of a committee to conduct a further study of the project, are reviving a plan to sink and conserve water which overflows from the Santiago dam.

At the last meeting of the board, Chairman Willis Warner named Directors William C. Walling, C. A. Palmer and William Mauserian as members of a committee to study the feasibility of sinking pits in which to conserve Santiago creek waters below the dam. This committee is to report at the next meeting of the board.

According to the plan to be investigated the pits would be dug with wells sunk inside each pit to a depth of 200 feet or less. Runoff water then would be directed into these pits and sunk into the underground basin.

The same plan was suggested several months ago and advised against by Paul Bailey, then consulting engineer for the district, who said that the program would be too costly in consideration of benefits received. In lieu of the plan the directors of the district at that time approved using a pit belonging to the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company in a water sinking experiment.

$20,000 FOR BRILLIANT NIGHT HORSE SHOW AT FAIR

A total of $20,000 in premiums and trophies is offered to exhibitors in the 16th annual Night Horse Show, a major attraction during the first ten nights at the Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona, Sept. 17 to Oct. 3. The total cash award, now the richest in the west, represents a large increase over 1936. More than 300 blue blooded aristocrats representing the foremost stables in all parts of the United States will take part in the event which has gained the enviable reputation of being the most beautiful horse show in America. From the proud little Shetlands to the huge draft horses the entries include every classification entered by the show horse.

EXHIBITS BY YOUNG AND OLD PLANNED FOR FAIR AT POMONA

You're never too old or too young to exhibit at the Los Angeles County fair. Hoping to attract exhibitors of all ages, the fair association has set up classes exclusively for children and for women of advanced years.

One of the most interesting classes in the household arts department is the older ladies' class in which every exhibit must be made and entered by a woman 65 years of age or older.

The junior fair is open to all children. Pet bantams are often entered by children under 10 years of age in this department.

There is no age limit in any of the fair's major departments. An exceptionally large number of elderly, retired men have exhibits in the poultry, rabbit, and pigeon department, having turned to the raising of prize fowl or animals as a pastime.

STOLEN NAPS ARE INCLUDED IN NOVEL TOUR

Editor's Note: This is fifth in a series of letters from Jeanne Ann Kay (Mrs. Norton Gaston) describing her travel experiences in Mexico.

Riding the Mexican National R. R. "I am finding that second class is traveling like a king! Seats are leather upholstered and extremely comfortable. The ride from Guadalajara to Mexico City is mostly a climb, and a decidedly cool one. There would be nothing to prevent anyone from traveling second class if they enjoy knowing and watching people. The government is making an honest effort to improve conditions of the working class and keeps the travel rates very reasonable.

"My fellow passengers carried their guitars and all had lovely voices, so for hours the car rang with Mexican songs, lusty or sentimental, with now and then a familiar tune from my own land, sung especially for my benefit. Food was passed around among those in my corner of the car, and I was grateful that they included me. Corn on the cob, home-cured ham, native wine, tomatoes, tamales, and finally Mexican candy, were passed. This last delicacy is purchased in small round boxes and eaten with a wooden spoon. It is delicious.

Confused in City
"Sleep finally overtook me, but the crowd was so dense that it was necessary to sit up very straight and nod for stolen naps. The train drew into the station (Mexico City) and belched forth its passengers in a seemingly endless stream. All alone again, I was confused by the size of the city, however a taxi driver hurried me to the house of a friend of a friend, and there amidst the musical Spanish chatter, I settled down to life in the metropolis.

"These people keep a 'Casa de Huespedes' for medical school students and all the rooms were occupied. But hospitality being what it is in Mexico, they insisted that I take the daughter's room while she made herself comfortable on the living room floor. "A visit to the roof today that I might dry my freshly washed hair, disclosed a small assortment of livestock, chickens, and even a woolly lamb, all very domesticated and apparently very contented. When my hair was dry I rather reluctantly left this farmyard on top of a three-story house, and returned to the world of street cars and motor buses.

"It is he home in mind that the pedestrian is not safe on the streets of Mexico. Doubtless there are ways of crossing streets properly and safely, but after one week in the capital, I am still just a babe amidst the onrushing wheels of auto and tram, and breathe silent thanks after each crossing."

RADDANT ANNOUNCES INVESTMENT BOOST

The public invested more than $2,700,000 in shares of Federal savings and loan associations of California during the month of July, according to a report just issued by George W. Raddant, chairman of the federal section of the California Building and Loan League, and received by R. C. Raddant, secretary of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Santa Ana.

This increased investment by the public in shares of the associations was responsible for repayments of advances from the Twelfth District Federal Home Loan Bank, of approximately $1,500,000 during the month. During July, Federal savings and loan associations in California loaned more than $1,250,000 for construction, more than $500,000 for purchase of homes and nearly $200,000 for refinancing, reconditioning, etc. The total loaned for all purposes during the month was in excess of $2,600,000.

NEW SANTA ANAN TELLS OF SPANISH REVOLT DAMAGE;
HOW SICK "THANK" ALLAH

BY PAUL VISSMAN

It will take at least 100 years for Spain to recover from the destruction wrought by the revolution, according to Dr. Aimee Harrosh, D.C., native of French Morocco, North Africa, who has just arrived in Santa Ana.

Dr. Harrosh, his wife and three children, came to America because of the Spanish revolution. "When we left Morocco," Dr. Harrosh said, "the battle line was less than three hours' drive from Casablanca, where we made our home and where I had my practice. Conditions were so unsettled that I decided to bring my family to America, just as a matter of safety.

Decries Destruction
"Before the revolution Spain was one of the most beautiful countries in the world. Today— it is in ruins. The beautiful parks, the churches and other public buildings that were works of architectural art—practically all of them are destroyed. It will take Spain 100 years to replace them, all because of the revolution."

Dr. Harrosh said that he came to Santa Ana because a classmate of his when he was studying chiropractic science, Dr. Herbert Walcott, who is practicing in Orange, had written him glowing descriptions of the country. Dr. Harrosh has established offices at his home, 209 South Main street, where he will practice the latest drugless methods of healing as well as prepare for the market a special beauty cream made from earth discovered by the natives of North Africa and used to remove wrinkles and other signs of age.

Both Dr. Harrosh and his wife were born in French Morocco and speak French, Italian, Spanish and English as well as several native dialects, as do their children. "Morocco is a cosmopolitan area and to get along one must speak several languages," he said.

He came to the United States approximately 15 years ago to study chiropractic science and drugless methods, graduating from a chiropractic college. Dr. Harrosh practiced for several years in Atlanta, Ga., before returning to his home in French Morocco, where he was the only chiropractor.

Yes, Allah is Good!
There are plenty of patients in French Morocco, according to Dr. Harrosh, the only trouble is that after the cure is made Allah is thanked and the doctor unpaid.

"In many cases," Dr. Harrosh said, "the doctor treats a prominent citizen, who, while he is ill, will promise to pay fabulous fees if he is cured. When the patient is cured he lifts his eyes to the heavens and fervently says 'Allah has rid me of my suffering. Allah is good! Allah gets the credit—the doctor gets the air and red ink on his books.'"

Not all natives are like that, however. Dr. Harrosh said that he has a hand-woven rug in his home that was a present to him from one of the native chiefs that he had treated. "This chief was so grateful for the cure that he had the rug woven by his 26 wives and presented it to me along with my fee. The rug has since been valued at more than $1200."

Which Was First, Egg
Or Chicken?

POMONA, Sept. 10. — Which came first, the chicken or the egg? The age old question is revived by a unique display incorporated in the big poultry show to be held during the last nine days of Los Angeles County fair in Pomona, Sept. 17 through Oct. 3. For the first time there is to be an exhibit of eggs from the two hundred or more varieties and breeds of feathered aristocrats entered in this major division of the exposition.

Arrangements for the innovation have been completed by John Ashcroft and Charles Gage, superintendents in charge. As far as known this will be the first time that anything of the kind has been held in conjunction with a poultry show.

For the average person an egg is an egg, and yet, as the display will show, there is a wide variety of colors, shapes and sizes ranging from pure white to dark brown. In each case typical eggs of the breed and variety represented will be shown. Two specimens of each will form an entry and all will be plainly labeled.

Recent articles of Dr. Mason's have appeared in the June issue of the adult education bulletin on the "New Forum Leader" in the July issue of Amerasia and the August issue of State Government. He also has contributed reviews of books to the August issue of the American Political Science Review.

Bridge Club Meeting Arranged As Farewell Affair

Wednesday night's bridge club meeting in the home of Miss Helen Andrews, 941 West Camille street, was the nature of a farewell affair, since the hostess will leave next Wednesday for the University of Oregon at Eugene, where she will enroll as a freshman.

To take the places of Miss Andrews and Miss Virginia Curry, a member of the club who left recently for University of Kansas, the Misses Eleanor Cogan and Gloria Kirchner have been elected to membership in the group.

They were present Wednesday night with the hostess and the Misses Betty Timmons, Betty Bradley, Jo Flaherty, Evelyn Witt, Winifred Pettit, members, and Miss Mary Ellen Dudley, a guest.

Prizes in bridge were won by Miss Cogan and Miss Flaherty, who held the two highest scores.

Ivory-tinted asters centered the dinner table, which was appointed with blue and green favors. Games were played and as a climaxing feature, the bride-elect was showered with miscellaneous gifts.

Guests of the co-hostesses were the honored pair, Miss Card and Mr. Schmitt and Mrs. William Short, Lomita; Miss Virginia Ferguson, Frank Eastwood, Miss Mary Eastwood and Douglas Basse, Westminster; Miss Jean Card and Mr. and Mrs. William Quackenbush, Long Beach; Mrs. Quackenbush, the groom's mother, and Mrs. Eastwood, the bride's mother, were accompanied by the two Santa Anans preceding her marriage. The same intimate group as was present on that occasion took part in last night's affair.

Tapers and flowers in bridal white appointed the lace spread table which was further adorned with garlands caught to the chandelier. Celophane covered dollies gave a pretty appearance to the individual trays which were used in serving. Two course refreshments included chicken salad, rolls, and ice cream with green wedding bell centers. All decorative details were in green and white.

While the hostesses were serving, piano numbers were played by a group of young people. There were solos by the Misses Jeannette Brown, Lura Ann Sheehan and Sibyl Baker.

U. D. C. Chapter Gives Opening Meeting To Constitution Day

It seemed a very impressive and appropriate opening of the new club year for Emma Sansom chapter, U. D. C. yesterday in the home of Mrs. W. L. Duggan, 222 South Sycamore street, to devote the program to Constitution Day to be nationally observed September 17.

Mrs. Duggan was joined in hospitable plans by Mrs. Fay Gardner, chapter president; Mrs. C. E. Price, Mrs. E. A. Cox and Mrs. A. L. Cook, although the latter did not get down from Los Angeles to help entertain. Little Miss Betty Rose Hamlin of the home, received guests at the door.

Bowls of flowers including many white and purple asters were used about the home, and an especially effective arrangement of deep red gladioluses and white pompon dahlias surrounded with silver paper lined with vivid blue, expressed the patriotic motif, especially since it was placed beneath the prominently displayed American flag.

It was to this flag that members directed their flag salute, led by Mrs. George Wells, who with of the program. Business matters of the program. Business matters discussed under the direction of Mrs. Gardner, included the scholarship funds in which the chapter is interested. Of paramount importance, was the decision to establish a loan fund at Occidental college in memory of the late Mrs. Victor Montgomery, one of the founders of the chapter, and a former president of California U. D. C. This revolving fund is to be known as the Charley Louise Montgomery Loan fund.

Mrs. Wells then gave a short history of the Constitution, and distributed copies of that important document among members, the gift of Union Oil company. Mrs. Pritchett followed this with a short talk on personalities among the "Signers," gleaned from an interesting government book, "The Story of the Constitution," sent her by her sister from Washington, D. C. Copies of this book may be obtained from national congressmen or senators. One of Mrs. Pritchett's ancestors was a "Signer."

For the remainder of the program hour, the Daughters were told of a vacation stay in Honolulu by an associate member, Mrs. Emmett Elliott.

Completing an enjoyable afternoon reunion, the hostesses served chilled grapefruit with ice cream cake, while the Daughters chatted of summer vacation trips and winter chapter activities.

Enthusiasm Displayed At Barn Meeting Of Community Players

Such enthusiasm was expressed in prospects for the coming year in every phase of Santa Ana Community Players' association activities at last night's meeting in The Barn, that the quaint old Barn itself, seemed to glow and preen itself with pride in the association to which it gives shelter.

Announcement of the program and the fact that association membership with its privilege of attendance at all Barn affairs, brought out many new members, all of whom expressed such lively interest, that it aids in brightening the year's outlook. This interest began with the formal business session during which Harry L. Hanson, retiring president, introduced his successor John Cowell, and the new Barn chairman, Miss Mabel Pruitt.

Both outlined their plans for the year, those of the president dealing with major interests of the association, and those of Miss Pruitt, with affairs pertaining to The Barn. That she will divide membership into groups, each group to be responsible for all phases of a monthly meeting, was one of her arrangements.

She had asked the Players' director, Gladys Simpson Shafer, to arrange last night's program, which opened with the sparkling and delightful reading by Mrs. Robert Horn (Gertrude Horn) of "Ways and Means," one of the short plays from Noel Coward's "Tonight At 8:30." Following this, what was characterized as the "Newest and Youngest Community Players' Group," presented the Colin Clements one-act, "Spring."

Clever Cast
The "Newest and youngest" were Betty Jo Willis as "The Girl" and Richard Gardner as "The Boy," with one of the veteran Players, J. Leslie Steffenson, as the amusing Irish "Policeman." Cleverly enacted, the little play delighted the audience, which showed warm appreciation of the skill of the cast.

To complete interest in drama features, Mona Summers Smith told of the play-reading committee's choice of major productions for the year, and discussed "First Lady" with which the season will open. This led up to an interesting try-out for roles among those present. These try-outs will be continued tonight at 7:30 o'clock in The Barn. In an effort to complete casting immediately and start rehearsals next week.

There are 25 roles in "First Lady" and Mrs. Shafer has asked that men interested in taking part, make a point of attending tonight's try-outs. For there are eleven fine masculine characters to be assigned.

Discussion of all these plans was continued over hot coffee and refreshments served by Miss Helen Johnson and her committee, Mrs. Vernon Helmick and Mrs. Armstrong.

S. E. A. Women's Club Has Bridge Party

Dessert bridge at the Doris Kathryn was enjoyed Wednesday afternoon by S. E. A. Women's club members, who were assembled by Mrs. M. W. Ball of this city.

Prize winners in cards were Mrs. C. A. Sackerson and Mrs. G. W. Serr, who held the two highest scores. Mrs. Otis F. Anderson received four prize, and Mrs. H. C. Farmer, traveling award.

Representing various Orange county communities, the group included Mesdames H. C. Oliver, L. C. Herron, P. G. Kilburn, H. C. Farmer, L. C. Faust, A. C. W. Stokes, G. W. Serr, E. A. B. Smith, K. H. Stewart, C. A. Sackerson, H. H. Hilgers, H. T. Menoray, A. B. Muller, A. T. Phillo, Olen K. Suttiffe, Qis F. Anderson, D. H. Campbell, J. Gargan, O. J. Jordan, J. F. Strancke and M. W. Ball, members; with two guests, Miss Frances Jones of Amarillo, Tex., and Miss Margaret Watts of Garden Grove.

The next meeting will be held October 13 in the home of Mrs. E. A. B. Smith, 1150 West Eighth street. On the hostess committee will be Mesdames C. A. Sackerson, A. B. Muller and Ray Brown.

Contract Play Is Enjoyed By Supper Guests

Those pleasant affairs which from time to time, find setting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Briggs, 644 North Broadway, included as their latest manifestation, the supper-bridge party of last night, when Mr. and Mrs. Howard Timmons joined in extending the home's delightful hospitality.

With quantities of flowers at their command, the mother and daughter hostesses, Mrs. Briggs and Mrs. Timmons, developed a blue and gold design in table appointments. The buffet supper was served from the dining table, whose striking appointments included a group of cut-glass swans as containers for white anemones and yellow marigolds. Blue and yellow tapers were in matching cut crystal candlesticks, and blue and white plaques were used for serving.

Continuing the color arrangement, individual tables showed originality in their flower centerpieces. These were slim tall vases of maidenhair fern, each feathery cluster encircling a single giant marigold in flat arrangement.

Half a dozen tables were placed for the supper hour and its sequel of contract play. Men of the party seemed to show either more skill or more luck than their partners, for prize-winning scores were made by Messrs. James B. Tucker, Leonard Swales, Lester Tubbs and Charles V. Davis, as compared with the two feminine prize-winners, Mrs. Leonard Swales and Mrs. Fred Forgy.

Retired Naval Officer Visits Santa Ana Relatives

Mrs. S. P. Freeman, 1418 Duran street, and her brother, Norman Hoyle, have had as interesting guests this week, their nephew, Commander P. W. Northcroft (retired) of the United States Navy, and Mrs. Northcroft and their young son Bill.

It was gratifying news to Mrs. Freeman and Mr. Hoyle, that Commander and Mrs. Northcroft have determined upon Southern California as their permanent home, after having spent the summer in motor travel from coast to coast and into Canada. They have chosen Los Angeles as a location and will build in the hill residence section above Hollywood.

Commander Northcroft, a graduate of Annapolis, spent his boyhood days in Orange county so enjoyed visiting old familiar places and friends while here. He gave almost 30 years active service to the navy, including World war years. Three years were spent in the Philippines and in China in the very region that is now war-torn. He was lieutenant commander of the U. S. S. Colorado on her first voyage through the Canal to Pacific waters, and was then stationed for several years at San Diego and at Portland.

Amber Circle

On the hostess committee were Mesdames Hannah Stuessy, Evelyn Coutts, Cornelia Harwood, Zeta Edmunds, Margie Mae Reed, Berenice Perryman, Edith Brown, Marian Wallace and Hattie Stowe.

When the group re-assembled in the temple it was for a very short business program after which card tables came into service for contract and auction play. Honeymooning in the mountains is the experience this week of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Zentner, who left for the interesting trip immediately after their wedding at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

It was in the home of the Rev. Frank Lindgren, 1312 North Bristol street, that Miss Ariene Purinton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Purinton, 349 North Heplerian street, exchanged wedding vows with Leroy Zentner, son of Martin Zentner, 2322 Grand avenue.

Pompon dahlias in soft bright colors, were combined with gypsophila in the flower baskets placed as a bridal setting. For the services read by the Rev. Mr. Lindgren, pastor of Calvary church, Miss Purinton was wearing a smart tailor in autumn brown. Her hat was in red earth shades, and she wore a corsage of gardenias.

Miss Dorothy Swenson, in a tailored costume in brown and dark green, and wearing gardenias, was maid of honor, and Charles McFarland served as best man. Bridal music played by Frank Lindgren Jr., on a vibraharp, included the wedding marches of tradition, softly played melodies during the ceremony.

Guests were largely of the family circle, and included with the bride's parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Purinton and Miss Dorothy Purinton, her two grandmothers, Mrs. Mabel Purinton and Mrs. F. A. Rounds; Mr. Zentner's father and sister, Martin Zentner and Miss Wilma Zentner, and his two aunts, the Misses Anna and Emma Zentner, with Mrs. Charles McFarland, Mrs. Josephine Blood, Miss Barbara Faccou, Mrs. Frank Lindgren and Frank Lindgren Jr.

Both Mr. Zentner and his bride are Santa Ana High school graduates. He is now in business in Newport Beach, and the new home of the young people will be in that city when they return from their honeymoon.

Refreshments were served at the close of an evening of games. Guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Sisco with a china dinner set. In the group with the honored pair were Messrs. Charles Taylor, D. Landrum and daughter, Gladys; Carl Dugger and children, Doris and Beverly Jane; Harry Dady, Paul Walker, Claude Duncan, Ambers Hardy, Mrs. Martha Landrum, Miss Daphne Culver and Mrs. James Wilford, all of Santa Ana Gardens; Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holeman, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Jones and son, Winfred, Orange.

Not long ago we were discussing ways and means of baking berry pies in such manner that the filling would not boil out into the oven. A reader sends us her method, which she says is excellent.

"After the pie has been finished, all but putting on top crust, wet edges or lower crust and put a circle of fine dry bread crumbs around the edge of pastry. Put on top crust, crimp edges as usual and bake. The juice will not escape and the crumbs are not noticeable."

CREDIT WORK
OUTLINED FOR FARM CENTER

VILLA PARK, Sept. 10.—With W. D. Miller, secretary-treasurer of the Orange County Production Credit association, as the speaker of the evening, and announcement that the center president, W. C. Armstrong, will head the county farm bureau membership committee for the coming year, the initial meeting of the Foothill Farm center was held last night at the Villa Park social hall.

Outlines Activities
Miller gave a comprehensive outline of the activities of the organization and told of the rapid growth that had been made since it was established here in 1933. Contrary to general opinion, the association is not operated by the government, although it was set up by the government, being strictly a co-operative credit association, he said.

Credit is extended to farmers through the association on the same terms other big industries receive through banking organizations, Miller said, in pointing out that farming is the largest privately-owned industry in the nation. The charter, he said, is the same as any other bank and voting power is vested in members. There are 556 similar associations in the United States.

$1,636,000 Loaned
During the past three years, Miller said, $1,636,000 has been loaned Orange county farmers, with a loss of but $155. There is more than a million dollars available to borrowers at present, he said, and $39,000 is out on loans. During 1936 loans were made on 22 different commodities.

The speaker used a chart in showing how loans are budgeted and how needed sums for water, fertilizer, pest control and living expenses are sent to farmers at times scheduled.

R. W. Hull gave the directors' report. Royal Mueller gave the report of the tax committee and asked that members of the center contact school boards and urge economy in school budgets. H. H. Gardner gave the report of the avocado committee and stated that a meeting and dinner will be held some time this month. A regional farm bureau meeting was announced for September 17 at Fontana.

A nominating committee was appointed, with H. H. Gardner as chairman and serving with him are F. J. Mankofsky and William Kothe. Mrs. H. H. Gardner gave the report of the home department meeting Tuesday.

Program Presented
A musical program was presented by Ed Bula and his two talented proteges, Elsie and Frieda Hink. Violin solos with piano accompaniments, two songs, dances and piano solos were given by the sisters. Mr. Bula playing the accordion in several trios. Several popular numbers, including "Home on the Range," were closing selections.

David Fairbank reported on a recent trip to the Davis 4-H club convention and Edward Elman told details of the convention sessions. The boys were accompanied by A. A. Elman. Hostesses at the dinner were Mrs. E. B. Workman, Mrs. Dan R. Gardner, Mrs. Nathan Robbins, Mrs. J. A. Porter and Miss Helen Sanders.

ASK GROWERS TO CONSIDER FARM PROGRAM

California producers of winter wheat and such crops as cotton and sugar beets are advised by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to consider probable problems of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation program in making their plans for plantings this fall.

Seeds of soil-depleting crops do not exceed 50 per cent of the 1937 soil-depleting base acreages suggested by AAA officials. The provision for soil-depleting crops is expected to be lower in the 1938 program than in 1937.

Most farmers who keep seedings at 50 per cent of the 1937 soil-depleting base should qualify for the 1938 program. It was said, however, individual farmers who have larger percentages of their land in soil-depleting crops will find it necessary to make a greater adjustment in order to meet 1938 program requirements.

Plantings for 1938 of 50 per cent of 1937 soil-depleting bases are suggested at this time to guide farmers who need information in advance of announcement of full details of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation program.

To Plan 2 Million Acres

Approximately 2,000,000 acres of North plantings are made by California farmers.

An outline for the 1938 program is now being developed in Washington. In drafting the 1938 plan consideration is being given to recommendations presented by California farmers at a conference held in Berkeley July 19 to 21.

CALLING all DOGS

By Albert Payson Terhune

RAW, VERSUS COOKED

I used to be sorely puzzled over the old phase in dogs' digestion. I knew that poultry bones of a kind, left over from humans' meals, were rank poison to all dogs. Soon or late, the needle-like splinters of such bones were certain to pierce the stomach or intestines or throat.

I warned readers not to let their dogs get hold of the perilous fare. Yet, I knew that foxes and wolves kill poultry of every kind, and eat, bones and all, with no ill-effect. Also there are many stray dogs which devour chickens or ducks and the like; and they are none the worse for it. I could not understand why table-scraps poultry bones were fatal and why the bones of slain fowls were not in the least harmful.

At last, I made a long and careful examination of both kinds of bones, testing them in various ways. And I got the answer, confirmed by two expert chemists:

A newly-killed fowl's raw bones are more or less pliant and malleable. They can be crushed between a dog's jaws without turning into many hard spikes. But the process of cooking the bones "collapses" them, destroying their pliancy, and making them brittle. When they are broken, their points and edges are as sharp and as hard as fragments of glass.

The Nazi Party Congress

Every year in September the picturesque old city of Nuremberg is the scene of a spectacular "Reichsparteitag," or Party Congress, at which thousands of devoted Nazis gather from all parts of Germany to shout "Heil Hitler," and throw year scales into the foreign offices of the world. Airplanes roar overhead, blinding searchlights play across the sky, line after line of gray-uniformed Storm Troopers goose-step past the small insignificant looking man whom modern Germany venerates as her Messiah.

This year here a million cheering Nazis marched into Nuremberg accompanied by an army of cooks, traveling soup kitchens and potato peelers. The highlight of the meeting came when Hitler himself ascended the grandstand to the sound of solemn chanting, and in a passionate two hours speech reviewed the last four years of Nazi supremacy. Climax of the speech was Der Fuehrer's astonishing announcement that Germany's prosperity would now be complete if only she possessed the coal mines, the iron mines and the rich grain fields of Soviet Russia!

This extravagant piece of sabre-rattling caused consternation and alarm throughout the world. Relations between Fascist Germany and Communist Russia have never been good; lately they have been strained almost to the breaking point, and the final effect of Hitler's Nuremberg speech may well prove disastrous. In the meantime the occasion has been commemorated for all time in two recent German postage stamps which show thousands of upstretched hands holding a gigantic swastika—the familiar symbol which Hitler himself designed for the Nazi Party. There are two values: a 6pf deep green and a 12pf copper red.

Ship Stamps from Uruguay

Collectors who specialize in stamps showing various kinds of ships will be interested in this recent issue from Uruguay which pictures an old-time clipper ship cutting across the bows of a modern ocean liner. The stamps are intended to be used for paying the special fee exacted on mail posted after a certain hour. There are six values: 1c green, 5c violet, 6c deep green, 10c brown, 8c carmine lake, and 12c deep blue.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL MOUNTAIN IN THE WORLD

In order to make the world better acquainted with the beauty of her natural scenery, Japan recently issued a series of new stamp issues, each illustrating one of her twelve national parks. The first issue has just appeared. It commemorates Fuji-Hakone Park, where is situated Mount Fujiyama, generally conceded by travelers to be the most beautiful mountain in the world.

The 1-1/2 sen brown shows Fujiyama at dusk, with the encircling haze of mist that is almost always seen around it. The 3 sen green gives a beautiful view of "The Honorable Mountain," as the Japanese respectfully call it, from across Lake Ashinoko. In the 6 sen red Fuji, still draped in mist, is seen from the Mitsu Pass; and in the 10 sen blue an exceptional beautiful view shows the white and splendidly symmetrical form of the mountain through the venerable pine trees on the old Tokaido Highway.

Fujiyama is 12,000 feet high and on a clear day is visible a hundred miles out to sea. It is an almost perfect cone, except for the summit which is flattened out to a vast crater showing that the mountain was at one time an active volcano. Fuji has been venerated for centuries by the Japanese and every summer thousands of pilgrims come from all parts of Japan to climb this wonderful mountain, a task which presents considerable difficulty because of the frequent storms that sweep across its lofty sides. An old Japanese proverb says: "There are two kinds of fools in Japan—those who have never climbed Fuji, and those who have climbed it twice!"

THE WINDMILL SYMBOL

Three semi-postal charity stamps showing the picture of an historic old windmill in the town of Dybbol, are the latest from Denmark. Canadian Monument at Vimy Ridge Shown on French Stamp

Sixty thousand Canadian soldiers lie in a cemetery in northern France. They are the soldiers who fell in the terrible Battle of Arras in 1917 during the great attack on Vimy Ridge, key position to the northern front and the famous Hindenburg Line. An impressive monument, consisting of two gigantic stone pylons standing on a massive platform lined with sculptured figures, was recently erected on this historic site. It was designed by a Canadian architect and sculptor, Walter Allward, cost $1,000,000 and is the largest war memorial in France or Belgium.

Before the two huge monoliths that figure so prominently in the stamp stands a symbolic statue representing Canada mourning for her sons. Roughly carved from a single block of stone, this great drooping figure with its bowed, shadowy head fully expresses the intention of the designer, which in his own words was "to represent the spirit of sacrifice rather than the exultation in victory." This statue was unveiled by King Edward VIII in a solemn dedication ceremony that was attended by 8000 Canadian war veterans and President Lebrun of France.

France has decided the great cemetery at Vimy Ridge in perpetuity to Canada in order that the fallen Canadians might lie in their own soil; and has postally honored the memorial monument with a special issue of two stamps, 75c red and 1.50 fr. deep blue.

BIVOUAC OF FORTY THOUSAND PATRIOTS

CROSS the Potomac from Washington in the hallowed ground of Arlington National Cemetery rest 40,000 American patriots. White "City of the Departed," Arlington is one of the most remarkable monuments to national courage and love of country ever conceived.

The federal government seized the Arlington property in 1864, for non-payment of taxes ($92.07) by the owner, Mrs. Robert E. Lee. Payment of $26,000 to Mrs. Lee was authorized. After her death in 1873, however, these proceedings were contested by her son, who won his case in the Supreme Court. Thereupon he sold the property to the United States for $150,000.

Covering 408 acres, Arlington is the last bivouac for more than 40,000 soldier dead and national heroes. In one stately tomb the bones of 2111 unknown victims of the Battle of Bull Run repose. In Arlington, too, rests the Unknown Soldier of the World War.

Latest addition to Arlington is the Memorial amphitheater, built of white marble and overlooking the peaceful Potomac. It provides seating capacity for thousands during memorial services. The amphitheater is shown on a 1923 stamp.

Madman's Island

KAY DEARBORN—heroine who inherits a yacht for vacation.
MELITA HOWARD—Kay's roommate and co-adventurer.
PRISCILLA DUNN—the third adventurer.
FOREST BROTHERS and GRANT HARPER—young scientists whose expedition turned out to be a rare experience.

Yesterday, failing to find Kay or Grant, the party returns to the "Mistral" and there find a note warning "there is no chance to be of assistance to your friends." It orders they leave the island at once.

CHAPTER XIV

WHEN Grant Harper and Kay Dearborn went down those dark, deep steps they fully expected some death trap . . . perhaps an abandoned well to smother them out of existence. Or a pit in which they would be at the mercy of the owner of that insistent voice that came to them out of the night's blackness. Clutching Grant Harper's arm, Kay found her mind filled with all sorts of fiendish possibilities. Step by step they went deeper, and she felt sure that each step would be the last.

"Here we are," the voice said. Then Kay felt the man brush past her, heard the unmistakable sound of a latch.

What Kay and Grant saw in that sudden flash of light they would never forget on this earth. It was a long, paneled hallway, well carpeted. Beyond was another door. Dazed, Kay turned to her captor. He was the same man who had taken command of the "Chinook" and from whom she had attempted escape. Easily he slipped the flashlight into his pocket, but the revolver he kept ready.

"You are surprised," he said with a smile. "Indeed, I have other surprises in store for you. I am proud of my little place. I find myself anxious to show it—after so long a time."

"We're not anxious to see it," Harper said evenly. "We're not alone on the island. You can't possibly—"

"Never turn down hospitality," the man interrupted with a strange gleam in his eyes. "That door ahead will take you into the living room. Please go ahead." The revolver moved ever so slightly.

KAY urged Grant ahead. "Please," she said. "We may as well do what he says." "May as well?" The mad man chuckled pleasantly. "You must do what I say. You will find the place delightful. The electricity comes from my own little motorized plant. There is an air conditioning system, too. You'll note that the air is quite as fresh here as above. I have only one slight inconvenience. It does grow too chilled in the earth. Does it not?"

Kay shuddered, felt Grant's arm slip tighter around her waist. "Steady," he whispered. "Try not to show you're afraid. We may be able to—"

He stopped as their strange host drew closer, opening the door from the hallway.

Ahead was a large room, paneled like the hallway, even to the ceiling. It was beautifully furnished, and the pictures and decorations reflected impeccable taste.

"There is still more," the man said. "But suppose we sit here for a moment. You both must be—ah—tired after so strenuously trying to avoid my hospitality."

"Thank you . . ." Grant Harper shot Kay a glance full of meaning. "Of course, you can understand that we weren't aware of your intentions?" He settled in one of the huge leather chairs. "This is hardly what one would expect to find."

The other smiled. With a curious gesture he slipped the revolver into his pocket. But there was no doubt that he was still aware of it. "I am glad you find it acceptable. You will have to excuse me for a brief time. There are some things I have to attend to. Please feel free here. There are cigarettes on the table there. In the sideboard you'll find fresh sandwiches and a bottle of very good wine."

He started toward the door. There he turned. "Of course, it will do you no good to try to escape. I wouldn't advise it." With that he left the room. Kay and Grant heard the lock turn definitely from the outside.

IN panic, Kay started across the room toward the door. "Wait!" Grant said. "One thing we must not do—and that's lose our heads. The man is obviously a paranoiac of some sort. But that may be in our favor. At least he has nothing logical against us. He's not out for revenge against us in particular—so we may have a chance to dissuade him."

"But what can we do?" Harper smiled grimly. "For a moment, nothing. He said there was food in the sideboard. I move you we make use of it."

"It—it may be poison," said Kay. Grant was at the sideboard.

and when Taylor sailed from New York on August 21, he repeated that he was "very fond" of Miss Stanwyck, who is four years his senior. But he added that he had no marriage plans.

"I have nothing at all to say about Robert Taylor," Miss Stanwyck said today, after she had come here, unannounced, to depart for London.

A Canadian Pacific liner is scheduled to sail Saturday, but it could not be learned immediately whether Miss Stanwyck had booked passage. She came here yesterday from Montreal, and immediately

"Well, at least we can depend on the wine. This seal is authentic, and hasn't been tampered with," Kay watched him break it open, fill two glasses set atop of the sideboard.

He brought one to her. "Here you are. To what shall we drink?"

Kay took the glass in trembling fingers. "There's no use," she said weakly. "I'm—I'm scared. Why should we pretend that he isn't going to kill us?"

"Because," said Harper, touching his glass to hers, "we're going to keep him from it."

When they had sipped the wine, Harper walked to a fireplace where logs and kindling were laid neatly. "A glass of wine and a hearth fire. Not bad, at that." He bent down, touched a match to the rolled paper. "We must accept his hospitality. He's very positive about that, you remember, and it may be the key to his heart, if he has one." Harper stood up before the fresh blaze.

"Besides, that smoke has to go somewhere above. It might be seen by the 'Mistral'."

"Do you really think they'll find us?"

"One thing you can be sure of. Mac and Tom are looking. When we came along that path I could have sworn I heard the speedboat's engine."

It was more than an hour later when they had returned. Now he looked as Kay had seen him on the "Chinook" for his clothes were dripping wet.

"Ah," he said, smiling. "You have made yourselves at home. That is good. You will pardon my appearance, I know. Sometimes it is a bit inconvenient, living on an island without a boat. But then, I do not mind. I am a strong swimmer—and one dries out quickly before a hearth fire."

Harper went forward disarmingly. "Better let me take your coat, old man. It's soaking."

"No, thanks . . ." The man drew back suspiciously. Then he smiled again. "You have been comfortable?"

"Very. You know, I'd like to know how in the world you've done all this. It's remarkable."

The other shrugged. "Not so remarkable, my friend. It was begun many years ago. I have merely improved it. Over a long period—ordering my materials and equipment from one place and another, so as to avoid publicity."

He walked toward the hearth, turned suddenly with his back to the fire. "Would you really like to hear the story of these rooms?"

Producer Puts Movie 'Ads' Above His Bed

BY PAUL HARRISON
(NEA Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 10.—With tongue-in-cheek they're telling this one about a wealthy movie-maker: He recently moved into an exceptionally fine new home which was built by a distinguished architect all exquisitely furnished by the most expensive firm of decorators. One of the interesting items is a magnificent canopied bed, brought from France. Scores of Hollywood people have dropped in to see the house, so the owner removed the canopy from the bed and has substituted a marquee advertising his latest picture.

It may not be your idea of a screamingly funny gag, but George Burns likes it—when people telephone him long distance he hangs up on "em. The longer the distance, the funnier it seems to Burns. This has been going on for years, and everyone in the show business knows about it.

About two o'clock one morning (in Hollywood) Benny Rubin, the writer, telephoned Burns from New York. He said, "Hello, George—this is your old pal Rubin! Say, George, Jack Benny is here and he just bet me a hundred dollars that I couldn't talk to you for five minutes on the phone. Now, George—"

"Jack wins the bet!" said Burns, and chuckled as he hung up. Soon the telephone rang again. New York calling. "Hello, George—this is Rubin! Listen, you ZZZZ th th th ZZZZ—, th &—XZ &—, th ZZZZ &—, 6's—THIS ONE IS ON ME!" And he smashed down the receiver.

Jimie Fidler In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 10.—My sympathy for Freddie Bartholomew's "Aunt Cissie" in her legal battles for his custody is a trifle strained after reading an interview she gave the newspapers recently. In it she damned the bosses of MGM because they had refused to give her Freddie a salary raise—said she might just as well take him out of pictures and back to a normal childhood in England as to let him go on working for "practically nothing."

The "practically nothing" happens to be $1,100 a week, forty weeks a year! Forty-four thousand dollars a year! And a three month vacation! Poor, underpaid little Freddie—he only earns as much in a day as the average American workman earns in approximately five weeks and a half! Out of it, he has to pay income tax and contribute four hundred dollars a month to the support of his parents, which leaves him hardly enough to buy an occasional Rolls Royce.

Perhaps Freddie's salary, as compared with the salaries paid, some top-notch stars is small, but "Aunt Cissie" must have a very short memory for the family poverty in England if she can call $44,000 a year "practically nothing." And she fails to consider the fact that growing boys, who lose their cuteness in a very few years, lack permanent value in the estimation of a studio. But what is the use of defending the studio—Aunt Cissie's slighting reference to a salary of $1,100 a week for a twelve-year old kid probably gives you just as severe a pain in the neck as it gives me.

Those scenes were repeated when he arrived in London, and a riot occurred when dozens of women fought for possession of a cigar butt Taylor dropped from a balcony.

Garbo To Be Comedienne

Does the idea of Greta Garbo being funny on the screen strike you as humorous? That's what the studio hopes, for the smile the actress flashes above and the elfish gleam in her eyes are prophetic. By all odds Garbo's next picture will be a comedy. The Sphinx of Hollywood, who has stalked through miles of emotional drama, expressed a wish to do a modern comedy, and Garbo's wishes carry weight. Half a dozen writers on the Metro lot got busy and all that's wanting now is a suitable vehicle.

Deanna Durbin Scores In Big-Time Film

The girl who created a sensation when she appeared in "Three Smart Girls," none other than 14-year-old Deanna Durbin, arrives at the West Coast today with a sterling cast in "100 Men and a Girl." Warner Oland leads the screen, in the second feature, "Charlie Chan on Broadway," thrilling, cleverly plotted mystery story.

Five Pictures Featured On State Program

Five pictures are featured on the program which screens at the State today and tomorrow and include "Two Fisted Sheriff," Columbia's newest outdoor action drama, starring Charles Starrett. "Blond Bomber," a Joe Palooka comedy; "House Cleaning Blues," a Popeye cartoon; "Jungle Jim," Chapter 7, and world news are on the program.

Lawlessness in the early West was not only a characteristic of the trail hand, cattle rustlers and other vicious characters—it also marked many "decent citizens" who preferred to meet force with force and had no patience to wait for the deliberate processes of the law.

Thus came into being the "Vigil," the agricultural adjustment administration. In many cases, the gallowing posers of irate ranchmen shot or hanged suspected criminals without the ceremony of a trial.

This brutal aspect of the early rangeland country, baring the difficulties faced by conscientious sheriffs and other peace officers, is the gist of the story of "Two-Fisted Sheriff."

In this picture, it will be noted that Starrett, in the role of the young sheriff, has nearly as much trouble with the upright citizens of the hide-and-hair cattle town as he does with the avowed bandits and killers.

Barbara Weeks plays the leading feminine role opposite Starrett in the film.

Films On Trains Shown In Europe

LONDON, Sept. 10.—(UP)—Not all the innovations in railroad travel come from the United States, says Sherman A. Boyce of the American Express Travel Service, who reports that the first permanent railway "movie" coach in England is now entering its third year.

Introduced in May, 1935, on the King's Cross - Leeds service, the movies have been shown six times a day, to an estimated 60,000 people in the last two years. Each program is an hour long and sound pictures are used, outside noises being excluded by the insulation of the coach. The original "movie" coach was so successful that a second one was put into service last year.

DRIVE CAREFULLY
—SAVE A LIFE—

AN EYE FOR AN EYE

An old paradox of "justice" bobbed up again when Boston police surgeons labored to save a wounded man's life so that he could be placed in jeopardy later in court as an accused slayer.

The situation poses the ancient puzzle of who has the right to kill a man, and whether the law is overstepping Biblical injunction when it executes a duly tried and convicted prisoner.

Offhand, it is too complex a problem to be solved by a Solomon's wave of the hand. The answer, perhaps, can come only from the mature judgment of perfected civilization. But that answer deserves more immediate thought than it is getting. For even at this early stage of man's progress, the policy of an eye for an eye has little to recommend it except that it's just the easiest way out.

PLANNED FLYING PAYS

After two months of trial flights over the North Atlantic, for which four nations pooled data and resources, it is announced that trans-Atlantic airlines are feasible.

Simultaneously comes news that coast-to-coast American commercial air service is now ten years old, with more than 120 million miles of flying to its account. Transcontinental trip time has been lowered from forty-eight to fifteen hours.

For such important accomplishments, these brief, terse announcements strike the observer as somewhat understated. Actually, they are in complete accord with the new attitude toward pioneering. And they recall the Bureau of Air Commerce suggestion that planned air progress is much more satisfactory, much more fruitful than any species of stunt flying.

In the light of these two latest accomplishments of aviation, it seems that the Bureau's advice was good. We are learning to blaze trails without ballyhoo.

V. F. W. RALLY

Newport and Balboa are making plans to entertain thousands of Veterans of Foreign Wars on Saturday and Sunday of next week. It will be the annual "rally" of the veterans.

Prominent officials of military and legion organizations are to attend including the various congressmen from Southern California.

An important conference of officers of the various posts of the Southland is slated for Saturday afternoon September 18.

A special reception committee of 100 citizens has been appointed to welcome the delegates to the conclave and they will be on duty until the closing hours of the rally.

Ladies of the auxiliaries of the various chapters will hold their annual rally at the same time that the veterans are meeting.

This probably will be the largest gathering in Balboa of the summer months of any organization.

Newport and Balboa are endeavoring to land many other conventions for next year. We think of no finer place to hold a conclave than in the beach cities of Orange county.

MATTER OF CIVIC PRIDE

Announcement made about this time each year, that Santa Ana Community Players are ready to resume activities of the winter season, is always fraught with a definite interest for the entire community.

It is a matter of civic pride that Santa Ana, one of the most prominent Little Theater cities in the United States, was able to maintain its ready production of worthwhile dramas throughout the years of the depression. Other communities in which interest in such a movement seemed as keen, one by one failed to keep up their organizations. But this city forged ahead steadily.

The local association, aided in its earlier years by the city administration, was sufficiently well established to continue functioning when civic problems made it necessary for that assistance to be withdrawn. Members of the group have worked faithfully, and given financial aid so far as possible, so that the year's programs have continued without interruption.

Perhaps no one phase of life in Santa Ana has given this city wider publicity than the annual Southern California Tournament of One Act Plays. Originated in this city, the tournaments continue to be held here each April despite the effort made by other Southland cities to secure the feature. All competing groups are united in the opinion that the annual events should continue to be staged here with the Santa Ana association as host group, aided by the city council and innumerable co-operating friends.

For the coming season, the association is to be congratulated upon its choice of plays. These will open with "First Lady," the great stage success by George Kaufman and Katherine Dayton. This had such a phenomenal run that it has just been released for production to such groups as the Santa Ana Community Players. Indeed it was problematical for some time, if it could be secured for this season's presentation.

But with its fine years of achievement in the past, and its promise for the future, it is safe to assume that the association will continue to bring fame and friendliness to Santa Ana for many years to come.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life

RUSSIA, "THE MOST SCIENTIFIC ATTEMPT"

It is of mighty little importance to the people as they start their children back to school that the tax rate is higher than in any school district in the county and that the citizens are paying for archery lessons and golf lessons which help bring up this rate. These facts are relatively of very little importance. But it is of the utmost importance what our children are taught in our public schools. The financial cost is relatively unimportant, compared with the training our children get.

On page 437, Volume 6, of the Rugg books, the following statement is made, referring to the Russian Five Year Plan. "It is the most daring and at the same time, THE MOST SCIENTIFIC ATTEMPT that a large nation has ever made to plan its way of living."

When we have our pupils read this statement, after they have been compelled to read more of this author than any other author, they are naturally inclined to believe the statement. But if Russia is making the most scientific attempt, it would then seem logical that the attempt made by the framers of the Constitution to establish free enterprise and preserve liberty for the individual, is not as scientific as the Russian plan. Is not the author, in reality, practically saying that the Russian system is better than the American system?

Of course, when this book was written in 1931, people were not then quite as well informed as they are at the present time, how they shoot down people in Russia with a frame-up of a trial and judges appointed by the dictator when they do not agree with those in control of the government.

So, when we are sending our children to school and our educators select text books by authors who believe and make statements like this, the amount of taxes we pay and the fact that we teach them golf and archery at public expense, is relatively unimportant.

With our children being taught this kind of doctrine, there is no wonder there is envy and hate abroad in the land; that there is unemployment; that there is misery and suffering. It is a natural sequence of the philosophy that this is a land of plenty; that machines cause unemployment and that the Russian system is more scientific than the free enterprise system of America.

TROOPS AND OPEN PORTS

If we are to preserve a halfway decent standard of living for the great mass of people, it will be necessary for men holding important positions, like the governor of California, in which they have taken oath to obey and defend the Constitution, to call the troops to give protection to those people who want to work and are interfered with by force.

The idea of permitting a group to stop ship transportation and truck transportation unless everybody pays tribute to those in control, is certainly un-American.

If these officers refuse to do their duty, they are only doing it because they think it is popular.

It might be well for them to remember that years ago, the governor of Massachusetts made himself famous and eventually became president because he had the courage of his convictions and refused to permit police strikers in Boston to dominate the city.

If we remember correctly, Wilson, at that time president, telegraphed the governor of Massachusetts that he would give him assistance if he needed it. They tying up of transportation is just as important and just as serious as the tying up of police operations. If the governor wants to be popular and at the same time, do his duty, the thing to do is to keep the ports open and the methods of communication open, even if he has to call the militia and ask for the assistance of the federal government. The governor has the power and he is neglecting to do his duty, when he refuses to act.

The last strike cost the people of California many millions of dollars because we did not have a governor who would do his duty.

Sooner or later, these public officials will have to show their hands and let the public know whether they believe in the American principle of the right to work, or whether they believe that every citizen must pay tribute to self-appointed dictators of our economic lives.

ON THE ROCKS AGAIN

The weirdly gyrating Premier Aberhart of Alberta, Canada, has at last run into an obstruction which will prove hard for him to surmount. His bank license law, climax of a series of wild-eyed "social experimental" legislation, has been declared void by the dominion cabinet council at Ottawa—a ruling from which there is no appeal.

By means of this law, Aberhart has proposed to force every bank manager and clerk to take out a license from the provincial credit commission, under penalty, if he refused, of a heavy fine and imprisonment. The licensee would then find himself the third member of a local "directorate," appointed by Aberhart's social credit board. In other words, he would be the minority member on his own directorate, the balance of power being held by Aberhart's henchmen.

That, of course, automatically would have put the premier's bank into the hands of the social credit government. It would have meant that Aberhart could forbid a banker to foreclose a mortgage, collect a debt or refuse to lend money to an Alberta citizen, no matter how poor was the latter's credit record. It would have meant that the government could compel a use of the bank's money in almost any way it desired, in an effort to make workable the unworkable social credit plan whereby every adult Albertan was to receive $25 a month for doing nothing.

Fortunately, the dominion government has stepped in and nullified the whole dangerous scheme. But the bank license law, because it is a good example of the lengths to which radical legislation can go, is at once an interesting study and a warning to America and all other nations that would preserve sanity and businesslike principles in their government.—Kansas City Star.

'What's the Latest News on the Doubleyou-ay-are?'

General Hugh S. JOHNSON Says

BETHANY BEACH, Del.—This nation should be grateful for the expert handling of its foreign relations by the President and Secretary Hull in this dangerous time. International law has been wrecked by disregard of treaties, undeclared wars, brigandage by great nations on land and their piracy at sea. In this chaos, the job of protecting our national rights and interests and yet keeping us out of messes into which other nations would like to drag us, is many times harder than ever before. Thus far it has been done with great skill. Protecting our people in Spain, getting them out of there as rapidly as possible and yet giving no offense either to the warring factions or their undeclared allies—that was a perfect job.

We have the same problem in Asia. It is being solved in the same way. The notice to Americans that they can come out of China under the protection of the flag for a reasonable time but thereafter that they will remain at their own risk, seems harsh to people whose means of living it takes away. But it is the only possible move for both the general good and their own. No citizen has a right to risk a war for his country—no matter what may be his own sacrifice.

It was wise of the President not to increase our naval strength in the Asiatic powder magazine. Every warship there is a hostage to fortune. The sinking of any would increase our danger of having to strike back at Japan or China. The recent demands of several "peace" societies and some ballyhoo radicals that the President promptly crack down on both sides in China with embargoes of the Pittman Act, are dumb and dangerous kibitzing.

The usual argument against applying the Neutrality Acts is that it would favor Japan and hinder China because Japan has ships and money and can "come and get" what she wants here on the "cash and carry" plan while China can't. That will result from a Japanese blockade whether we apply the Neutrality Act or not. The nation which commands the sea can always cut off its enemy's supplies. The fact is that full application of that act would more seriously hurt Japan than China because Japan is more dependent on American trade.

We should leave the use of this power to the President for a different reason. In the complexities of this perilous situation, changing hourly, propagandist pressure blocs ought not to be joggling the elbow of the man at the controls—especially when they don't know how to fly an airship and he is daily demonstrating that he does.

This war may be undeclared but it is war just the same and we are an undeclared neutral in it. The problem is even tougher in principle than Woodrow Wilson's problem in 1914, because, in this new international anarchy, there are no precedents and not even a pretense of international law to guide. It is no time for kibitzing. That's what got us into the World War.

The Neutrality Act gives power to the President to keep us out of war—and also to push us into war. If the idea of these unskilled advisers is to crack down with the Neutrality Acts to punish Japan for her cruel, ruthless and bloody assault on China and to register our disapproval of all war in general and this war in particular, the President could accommodate them—but it wouldn't be neutrality. It wouldn't be keeping us out of war. It would be dragging us into a bad war in a big way.

This is not a matter of internal policy or politics. It is foreign relations in a world aflame and in our history generally, that fortunately, is where politics have usually been adjourned.

Annually, the British motor industry consumes 650,000 tons of iron and steel, 3,740,000 yards of cloth for upholstery, 1,136,000 gallons of paint and lacquer, 1,176,080,000 gallons of gasoline, and 30,311,000 gallons of oil.

Little Benny's Note Book

By LEE PAPE

Pop was smoking to himself in his private chair and ma was pushing crooked things strate and strate things crooked, saying, P. Willis Hinkle had a very interesting article today, Willium, all about the power of suggestion. P. Willis Hinkle claims you can tell a perfectly well man in the flower of health that he looks pale and he will immediately start to feel ill, ma said.

P. Willis Hinkle never did know what he was talking about and it seems he hasn't learned yet, pop said. Try it on me. Go ahead, tell me I'm pale and listen to my mocking laughter, he said, and ma said, Well naturally when you know a thing in advance, you're practically forewarned. But seriously, Willium, I mean seriously and P. Willis Hinkle aside, did you feel quite yourself when you came home this evening?

This evening? pop said, and ma said, O, I know you didn't say anything, but you can't feel a wife and mother. You were feeling far from well and you know it, and I don't know if you're even quite yourself now, she said.

By golly I wasn't so perky at the office today, but nobody noticed anything, so yee gods you must have a 6th sense or 2nd site or something, pop said, and ma said, See, I knew it, and you're still feeling a shade or 2 under the weather, aren't you?

Well, indeed I have felt better, but say, look here, is this trap, is this some of that P. Willis Hinkle suggestion bunk after all? pop said, and ma said, You'll never know.

And she kept on laughing to herself as if she knew a great joke, and pop got in back of the sporting page so he wouldn't have to see her even if he had to hear her.

OVER-ACTIVE PANCREAS RESULTS IN TOO MUCH INSULIN BEING SECRETED FOR BODY

This is the 14th of 20 articles by Dr. Fishbein on the function of the glands in the body.

In the discussions of diabetes that have already been published, mention has been made of the relationship of the Islands of Langerhans in the pancreas to the cause of that disease. The pancreas has not only an external secretion which goes into the intestines, aiding in the digestion of protein, but also an internal secretion which is vital in the handling of the sugar by the body. It has been proved that removal of the pancreas, surgically results in death within three weeks, because of the tremendous increase of blood sugar in the body.

In 1922, Banting and Best, aided by McLeod and Collip, were able to develop the secretion of the Islands of Langerhans in pure form. This secretion is known as insulin. Insulin is now used, as I have already described, in the control of diabetes.

Since these fundamental discoveries were made, another condition has been found related to the pancreas which has to do with over-activity of this gland. Instead of an insufficient amount of insulin resulting in diabetes, there may be too much insulin secreted by the gland. This occurs, for example, when there is a tumor of the pancreas or when there is inflammation tion with over-stimulation. In this condition the content of the blood in insulin is also increased.

In mild cases, characteristic symptoms are muscular weakness, aversion to work, dizziness, ravenous hunger, palpitation, irritability and sweating. The intolerable and ravenous hunger is sometimes the most obvious symptoms.

The effects on the mind and on the consciousness are also important. They are exactly the same as those which occur when a person has had too much insulin injected because of diabetes. In such cases, they may manifest first symptoms like those of drunkenness, eventually loss of consciousness altogether. When there is too much insulin in the body the amount of sugar in the blood falls greatly.

Obviously, it is exceedingly important for a doctor to make a competent examination which will indicate the amount of blood sugar that is present. This is important because sometimes excessive insulin or hyperinsulinism is mistaken for drunkenness, hysteria, or similar mental disturbances.

In people who suffer regularly with a slight amount of excess of insulin, it is necessary to provide extra sugar. If these people indulge in any muscular activity, such as a game of golf, they must have more sugar supplied during the muscular activity.

AN UNFORTUNATE SITUATION

"Get down, Nina. Now get down! I don't want you crawling all over me. Get down, I say. Are you going to get down or am I going to set you down?"

Nina wails, fists in eyes, those same eyes cocked around the corner in the hope that mother will hear and come. Her hopes are fully justified. Mother comes running.

"What's the matter, precious? What's the matter with mother's baby?"

"Daddy put me down."

"He did? Well, never mind the bad old daddy. Come to mother. There, there, precious girl. Mother loves her, yes she does."

Mother hoists Nina to her shoulder, and as she is carried out in triumph, she eyes father with a knowing squint. Mother is her friend. Father, the routed enemy.

That is about as bad a situation as a child can face at home. When one parent sets a child against the other there can be no peace in the household and no security for the child. That child will learn to work one parent against the other for his own ends. The strength that a united father and mother might put into the training of the child is lost.

There is no sure family background against which this child can lean. There is no parental support for his wavering growth. The loss is the child's, mainly. The parents can philosophize, adjust themselves, quarrel and go their way, but the child has nowhere to set his foot.

A feeling of security in his home is a source of great strength to a child. He goes his happy way, knowing that father and mother are ready to help him in time of trouble. He can depend upon father's support and on mother's affection. He never has to worry about what one of them will say or do. He knows what to expect from a united opinion and a harmonious attitude.

There is no such thing as a hundred percent perfection. It is a hope that beckons humanity forward. Fathers are often tired and often impatient. Mothers carry a heavy load of responsibility and hard work along with their motherly anxieties, hopes and despair.

It is not to be expected that one or the other or both will not occasionally bolt over. What of it? It is all in the job. Don't bring the children into it. Don't try to make up what you miss by taking it out on the child. That is very unfair and far from grown-up.

A child in the house ought to be a bond of union stronger than any other. For his sake one swallows the hasty word, keeps back the too ready tears. For his sake one forbears, serves to the utmost. For his sake silence is better than the relief of hasty words.

For his sake the burden of life is carried steadily, if not cheerfully, to the end. By and by the day comes when this child knows the love and the service that have gone into his making, and he returns it a hundred fold in affection.

And, the day comes when the parents who have grown together for the sake of this child understand the good he has brought them, the strength he has bestowed upon them. All they gave is returned with a great love added to it, and they rejoice that they were able to carry through to this day. The price of peace is sacrifice.
